IBM, C-H Officials Head Chest Industry Division

Steinkuller, Haulenbeek Are Leaders

Paul F. Steinkuller, personnel manager of the IBM Kingston plant, will head the Kingston Area Community Chest's Industry Division in this fall's Red Feather drive, it was announced today by Christopher D. Morris, general campaign chairman.

John H. Haulenbeek, industrial representative for the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., will be co-chairman of the division, which will seek corporate gifts from the Kingston area's manufacturing concerns and personal pledges from employes and executives. The division has a quota of $40,000 toward the Community Chest's goal of $100,270 to meet the operational needs for 1956 of the eight member agencies who have combined their fund appeals in this one community-wide effort.

OTHER MEMBERS enlisted for the Industry Division as group chairmen are: Leonard W. Herrick of the New York Telephone Company; K. Edward Lefren and George R. Mstaparta, Hercules Powder Company; Minford Overfield, Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation; Charles Forst, Forst Packing Company; John J. Strittar, Electrol, Inc.; Robert C. Cline, Ulster Foundry and Machine Corporation.

Also, Charles Back, J. B. Back & Co., Inc.; George Silkworth, Babcock Farms Dairy; William E. Rylance, William Rylance & Sons, Inc.; William W. Ewing, F. Jacobson & Sons; Clarence S. Rowland, Jr., Fuller Shirt Company, Inc., and Chester A. Baltz, Jr., of C. A. Baltz & Sons, Inc.

MEMBERSHIP of the Industry Division has been expanded over last year in order to achieve 100 per cent coverage of the city's manufacturing concerns without placing undue burden upon any individual, according to Mr. Steinkuller.

Primary stress will be placed on offering the wage earner an opportunity to contribute toward the Community Chest at his place of employment, by payroll deduction where possible. Chest experience in other cities indicates this is the most efficient means of fund raising and the one preferred by the majority of employes.

THIS YEAR, Red Feather window stickers will be available for contributors in an attempt to prevent duplication of effort by volunteer solicitors.

The Industry Division is the first of eight soliciting divisions to be organized for the Kingston Area Community Chest's second annual campaign. Other divisions are: advance gift, commercial, government and education, professional and health, clubs and organizations, residential and suburban.

The drive will start officially about October 3 and will continue through October 28. Initial contacts with the various industrial firms, however, will begin almost immediately, as will advance gift solicitation.

NEW QUEEN IS CROWNED—Miss America of 1956, 18-year-old Sharon Kay Ritchie, of Denver, Colo., gets crown from retiring Miss America of 1955, Lee Ann Meriwether, in Atlantic City, N. J. (Sept. 10). Ike for Longer Schooling

Suggests High School, College 5-Year Terms

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

Denver, Sept. 12 (AP)—President Eisenhower says America's youth ought to spend more time studying in this "complicated" age. He advocates lengthening regular high school and college courses to perhaps five years.

And he also suggests that older folks are being required to retire from their jobs too early in life.

THAT PRACTICE, he declared with a hearty laugh yesterday, may lead to "a revolution of old men and I am going to be in it."

In that light note maybe there was—and maybe there wasn't—a hint that he regards himself as still too young to pass up bidding for a second term. He will be 65 Oct. 14.

The President expressed his views on education and retirement during an inspection of the temporary headquarters of the new air force academy at Lowry Air Force Base here.

HE SET FORTH his ideas as he chatted informally with Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon, the academy superintendent and a 1915 classmate at the army's military academy at West Point, N. Y.

The Chief Executive — who learned about education problems as president of Columbia University—took a deep interest in the new academy's study curriculum.

In discussing it he remarked to Harmon that "when we were kids" a four-year high school education generally sufficed as a preparation for dealing with life's problems.

"But with this complicated life we've got now," the President said, "how in the heck do we expect to educate people properly with the same number of years in high school and college?"

HE WAS ALLUDING to what he termed the usual "three to four-year" regular course in both high school and college.

"I think the years have got to be lengthened," Eisenhower said.

He suggested it would be a

Area Gets Light Rainfall With Cooler Weather

Predicted "hard-hitting" thunderstorms failed to materialize in the region yesterday.

Light rains came instead as temperatures stayed seasonable and less than a quater of an inch of rain fell in most areas of the county.

Only .21 of an inch was reported in the Ashokan reservoir while Schoharie had .70 of an inch. The rain was comparatively light in the Kingston area where the high temperature yesterday was 78 degrees at 5 p. m. The overnight low was 57 at 7 a. m. today.

The rainfall was the only one recorded locally, to date, this month.

The Associated Press reported the light rains general in the state's southern tier area. Oneonta reported .64 of an inch of rain and the Binghamton-Elmira areas reported .43 of an inch.

High winds and rains were reported in the western end of the state Saturday and some damage to the apple crops was reported in Clinton county.

The weather bureau yesterday issued a warning on the expected thunder storms and withdrew it hours later, explaining that an expected cold front had passed.

Temperatures were reported dropping over most of the eastern third of the nation as the leading edge of a cool air mass moved into the Middle and North Atlantic states. The southwest still had its heat wave and a warming trend was reported in the northern plains. Light rains moistened parts of New England today.

Harriman Sees Ike as Candidate

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—Predictions that President Eisenhower will run for re-election next year came yesterday from Gov. Averell Harriman and Republican State Chairman L. Hudson Morhouse.

The Democratic governor said he believes Eisenhower will run because of the pressures being exerted on him by GOP leaders.

The governor said in a radio interview, however, that "the campaign will come down to issues and not personalities." He added that Eisenhower will have to take full responsibility for the acts of his subordinates and the policies of the Republican party.

Morhouse said "I believe confidently that President Eisenhower will run again."

"Several millions of Democrats and independents voted for Eisenhower in 1952 and more will in 1956," Morhouse said in the text of a speech prepared for a farmers' gathering at Woodridge, Sullivan county.

Morhouse had just returned from the Republican state chairmen's meeting with Eisenhower at Denver.

U.S., Italy Form New Command

Force to Guard Southern Europe

Rome, Sept. 12 (AP)—A new NATO command came into being in North Italy today following a quiet diplomatic agreement between the United States and Italy.

The new outfit is SETAF—Southern European Task Force. Its commander is Brig. Gen. John K. Michaelis, World War 2 aide to President Eisenhower and famous Korean War commander of the 27th "Wolfhound" regiment.

Michaelis' force is being formed of U. S. troops shifting from Austria to Italy to help strengthen the NATO defense line weakened by the pullout of western occupation forces from Austria.

IN RECENT weeks U. S. and Italian diplomats quietly reached accord on the 1951 status of forces agreement drawn up by the NATO powers in 1951. Italy, Portugal and Iceland are the only three Atlantic allies which have never ratified the agreement. The Italian Senate has approved it but the Chamber of Deputies has never taken action.

Informed sources said Italy now has agreed to conform to the agreement even before it is ratified. The Italians also promised to push its ratification through the lower house soon after it recnvenes Sept. 21.

THE AGREEMENT provides for trial of NATO servicemen in courts of their own nations for offenses committed abroad while on duty. For offenses off duty, the host nation can waive its right to prosecute and let the soldier's own government do it.

Because some congressmen feel American military courts should be the only ones with jurisdiction over U. S. soldiers, Italian approval of the agreement was considered essential before announcement of the new unit. Actually, several thousand U. S. servicemen have been stationed at Naples and Leghorn for several years, and there has been a minimum of friction between American and Italian authorities.

THE NEW TASK FORCE will have its headquarters for the time being at Leghorn, on the northwest Italian coast. It has been the chief supply port for the American forces in Austria.

Eventually Michaelis will move his command to Vicenza, 38 miles west of Venice at the foot of the Dolomites. First, however, barracks must be readied in that area of severe winters.

SETAF is part of the allied forces in southern Europe, commanded by Italian Lt. Gen. Clemente Primieri. Informed sources said the unit would have much autonomy, reporting direct to Washington on such matters as promotions, supplies and the like.

Grills to Close, Grocers May Sell

No contests are in prospect for Primary Day tomorrow when party candidates will be officially nominated and county committeemen elected.

The polls will be open in 20 election districts in the city of Kingston and 71 districts in the rest of the county from noon to 9 p. m.

ALL PERSONS who enrolled as members of a political party when they registered last fall are entitled to vote in the primary of their party. Only Republicans can vote in the Republican primary, Democrats in the Democratic primary and Liberals in the Liberal primary.

For the most part the same polling places used last year for the state elections will be used for the primary.

All voting will be by paper ballot with a different color of ballot for each of the three parties—cherry for the Republicans, green for the Democrats and sky blue for the Liberals.

DURING THE TIME the polls are open the sale of liquor, wines or beer are prohibited by state law. Groceries and drug stores are permitted to sell beer for off premises consumption.

Miss Marguerite M. Quick of the Ulster County Board of Elections called attention to the importance of the primary despite the lack of contests and urged voters to respond.

THE FALL PRIMARY election gives the citizen the right to select his own candidate for public office regardless of the selection made by the parties in convention. It provides the taxpayer with the controlling power in government offering him an opportunity to agree or disagree with the selection of candidates made at the convention.

It was pointed out that the primary was almost as costly as a general election, requiring practically the same number of officials at the polls.

Interest in the primary tomorrow focuses on the election of county committeemen by their respective parties.

No Headway in Conference

Adenauer and Bulganin Can't Agree on Issues

Moscow, Sept. 12 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin met again today and found themselves so far apart on issues dividing the two nations that they were unable even to agree on a statement for reporters.

A German informant said they were as far apart as when the German-Russian consultations began last Friday.

THEY MET to hear reports from their foreign ministers, who conferred for an hour and a half earlier in the day. A German spokesman—Felix Von Eckardt—said Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano and V. M. Molotov also were unable to agree.

One German source said Adenauer and Bulganin were continuing their talks at an elaborate Kremlin reception. There may be another meeting tomorrow, but arrangements already are in the works for the German conferees to go home Wednesday.

WHILE Von Eckardt declared no progress had been made and that basically the normalization talks were at the same place they were when they opened last Friday, a somewhat more optimistic view was advanced by Leonid Ilyichev, the Soviet press chief. Ilyichev told reporters the foreign ministers had a sincere exchange of opinions and "judging from the fact they decided to report to their heads of government, one can judge that there were some results."

Von Eckardt said the two countries were still just as far apart as ever on such questions as the German war prisoners, reunification and means of establishing normal relations.

Port Ewen Man Treated for Shock, Ramoses Are Held

Fred Eggerman, 53, of Port Ewen, was said to be in "apparently good" condition at Kingston Hospital today, reportedly suffering from nervous shock as the result of a series of events yesterday, including an altercation with two Kingston men at his home early Sunday morning and a fire in his Woven Label factory on Sunday afternoon.

The altercation, reported to the Ulster county sheriff's office, about 2:30 a. m., Sunday, involved Mr. Eggerman and his father, Frederick Eggerman, and two Kingston men, John Ramos, 21, of 298 Clinton avenue and Philip Ramos, 23, of 63 Green street.

THE TWO Ramos men were arrested by Deputies Thomas Mayone and Charles McCullough, John on a charge of petit larceny and Philip on a charge of assault third degree. They were committed to the Ulster

'Cross' Is Charged by Union Head

Committee Denies Knowing of Pact

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—New York's waterfront strike was on in full force again today amid union charges of a "double-cross."

William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.) told dock workers not to go back to work, a few hours after the walkout appeared ended last night.

The men remained away as hiring boses blew their whistles at pier heads to start the day's work at 8 a. m.

A POLICE department check showed pier work at a standstill in all parts of the port except the Brooklyn waterfront where workers showed up. Union sources previously had said that there might be some return to work today because of the abrupt change in union plans.

Late in the morning New York's Gov. Averell Harriman renewed his appeal for an immediate end to the walkout.

Stating again that dockers' grievances would receive a fair hearing from the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission, Harriman told the union men in a telegram that "delay in returning to work will be disastrous to industry and labor and to all the people dependent on the port.

Bradley went to the North river waterfront just before the hiring hour and conferred with Thomas Gleason, the union's general organizer, who passed the word that the strike was still on.

BRADLEY THEN issued the following statement:

"An agreement was reached by the union and officials of the New York State Legislative Committee. After the agreement was made, pressure was put on the legislators not to go through with it. We called the strike off. Then they said 'no agreement.' We were double-crossed. We are not ready to make recommendations to the men at this time. This proves again the longshoremen are a political football."

The union leader referred to a short-lived agreement reached yesterday between the ILA and a representative of the New York State Joint Legislative Committee on industrial and labor conditions for a hearing of workers' complaints.

The pact was immediately repudiated by the committee chairman, Assemblyman John L. Ostrander, who said Marshall M. Miller, committee consultant who made the promise, had no authority to commit the committee.

GLEASON DECLARED that Miller was "double-crossed himself" in the matter.

"He didn't contact us on his own," the union official said. "Somebody sent him with instructions. The guy himself was double-crossed. He told me last night that if his recommendations were not accepted, he himself would resign, and that he would go on radio and tell the people the real story.

"As far as we were concerned, the men were glad that we at last had a forum for our beefs, even though it was to be almost two weeks in the future. They were satisfied."

The proposed hearing had

CC Urges Interest In Fire Prevention

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Ulster County Safety Council, issued an invitation today to all organizations and agencies to assist in a comprehensive community program to focus public attention on fire prevention during National Fire Prevention Week, October 9 to 15.

A spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce, in making this announcement today, stated that the elimination of all fire hazards and low fire losses help make our community a better and safer place in which to work and live.

Fire prevention week also affords an opportunity for civic and service groups to give special recognition to the fine work of our various fire departments, both paid and volunteer. In many cases clean-up campaigns are also sponsored as part of fire prevention.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower issued a proclamation on August 2 asking full public participation in National Fire Prevention Week.

Hurricane Hilda Blows Near East Bahama Isles

Miami, Fla., Sept. 12 (AP)—Hurricane Hilda was discovered today in the Atlantic southeast of Turks Island the weather bureau reported.

The first advisory issued on the eighth tropical storm of the year alerted the eastern Bahama Islands for the possibility of gale to hurricane winds tonight and Tuesday.

Hilda, not yet a fully developed Hurricane, had winds of 75 miles an hour or higher blowing in heavy gusts around the center. They were strongest in the northeast quadrant of the disturbance.

The storm was moving westnorthwesward at 13 miles an hour and was expected to continue in that direction at about that forward pace for the next 24 hours, increasing in size and intensity.

Small craft along the lower Florida east coast were advised to remain in port.

Polio Situation Is Easing

Two State Totals Show Crippler on Wane Now

Although Massachusetts and New York both reported more new polio cases today, the totals indicated there was an easing in the polio situation in both states, according to Associated Press reports.

Fifty-five new cases of polio were reported in Massachusetts, bringing the state total for 1955 to 2,619, while 159 new cases were reported in the 57 counties outside New York city during the week ended last Saturday.

Indicating the easier polio situation, schools reopened today in a number of metropolitan Boston suburban communities and elsewhere in central and eastern Massachusetts.

Boston, where the disease hit hard in August, reported nine new cases, and Peabody and Quincy reported five each.

The New York State Health Department report was 14 under the preceding week's total, which was the year's highest.

In the 1954 week corresponding to last week, 73 cases were reported.

Last week's incidence raised

GLEASON DECLARED that Miller was "double-crossed himself" in the matter.

"He didn't contact us on his own," the union official said. "Somebody sent him with instructions. The guy himself was double-crossed. He told me last night that if his recommendations were not accepted, he himself would resign, and that he would go on radio and tell the people the real story.

"As far as we were concerned, the men were glad that we at last had a forum for our beefs, even though it was to be almost two weeks in the future. They were satisfied."

The proposed hearing had

No Headway in Conference

Adenauer and Bulganin Can't Agree on Issues

Moscow, Sept. 12 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin met again today and found themselves so far apart on issues dividing the two nations that they were unable even to agree on a statement for reporters.

A German informant said they were as far apart as when the German-Russian consultations began last Friday.

THEY MET to hear reports from their foreign ministers, who conferred for an hour and a half earlier in the day. A German spokesman—Felix Von Eckardt—said Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano and V. M. Molotov also were unable to agree.

One German source said Adenauer and Bulganin were continuing their talks at an elaborate Kremlin reception. There may be another meeting tomorrow, but arrangements already are in the works for the German conferees to go home Wednesday.

WHILE Von Eckardt declared no progress had been made and that basically the normalization talks were at the same place they were when they opened last Friday, a somewhat more optimistic view was advanced by Leonid Ilyichev, the Soviet press chief. Ilyichev told reporters the foreign ministers had a sincere exchange of opinions and "judging from the fact they decided to report to their heads of government, one can judge that there were some results."

Von Eckardt said the two countries were still just as far apart as ever on such questions as the German war prisoners, reunifi,cation and means of establishing normal relations.

Port Ewen Man Treated for Shock, Ramoses Are Held

Fred Eggerman, 53, of Port Ewen, was said to be in "apparently good" condition at Kingston Hospital today, reportedly suffering from nervous shock as the result of a series of events yesterday, including an altercation with two Kingston men at his home early Sunday morning and a fire in his Woven Label factory on Sunday afternoon.

The altercation, reported to the Ulster county sheriff's office, about 2:30 a. m., Sunday, involved Mr. Eggerman and his father, Frederick Eggerman, and two Kingston men, John Ramos, 21, of 298 Clinton avenue and Philip Ramos, 23, of 63 Green street.

THE TWO Ramos men were arrested by Deputies Thomas Mayone and Charles McCullough, John on a charge of petit larceny and Philip on a charge of assault third degree. They were committed to the Ulster

CC Urges Interest In Fire Prevention

The Kingston Area Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with the Ulster County Safety Council, issued an invitation today to all organizations and agencies to assist in a comprehensive community program to focus public attention on fire prevention during National Fire Prevention Week, October 9 to 15.

A spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce, in making this announcement today, stated that the elimination of all fire hazards and low fire losses help make our community a better and safer place in which to work and live.

Fire prevention week also affords an opportunity for civic and service groups to give special recognition to the fine work of our various fire departments, both paid and volunteer. In many cases clean-up campaigns are also sponsored as part of fire prevention.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower issued a proclamation on August 2 asking full public participation in National Fire Prevention Week.

Polio Situation Is Easing

Two State Totals Show Crippler on Wane Now

Although Massachusetts and New York both reported more new polio cases today, the totals indicated there was an easing in the polio situation in both states, according to Associated Press reports.

Fifty-five new cases of polio were reported in Massachusetts, bringing the state total for 1955 to 2,619, while 159 new cases were reported in the 57 counties outside New York city during the week ended last Saturday.

Indicating the easier polio situation, schools reopened today in a number of metropolitan Boston suburban communities and elsewhere in central and eastern Massachusetts.

Boston, where the disease hit hard in August, reported nine new cases, and Peabody and Quincy reported five each.

The New York State Health Department report was 14 under the preceding week's total, which was the year's highest.

In the 1954 week corresponding to last week, 73 cases were reported.

Last week's incidence raised

Operator Licenses Being Renewed At Motor Bureau

Operator's licenses, which expire September 30, are being renewed at the Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau, Main street, it has been announced by County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft.

In pointing out that operators driving after that date without a renewal will be subject to arrest, Mr. Craft urged early renewals to avoid last minute congestion and long delays in line at the motor vehicle office.

RENEWALS this year require the applicant to answer a series of questions regarding health and disability. Under paragraph 12, the applicant must answer eight subdivisions regarding various forms of illness or disability. Should the applicant answer in the affirmative, full particulars, including dates and present physical condition must be supplied.

If serious illness or disability of certain kinds has been suffered since issuance of the last license, it may be necessary to appear before a motor vehicle inspector for an examination or an affidavit may be required from a physician. Under certain circumstances where disability has resulted the local motor vehicle bureau office cannot issue a renewal and it may be issued from Albany after sufficient evidence of physical ability has been supplied.

The three alarm fire was controlled in 2 and a half hours. While fellow firefighters poured water on him, Fireman Jim Hayes dashed into a burning building to rescue a stunned pigeon.

Protest Option Price on Home Granted Negroes

Southern Pines, N. C., Sept. 12 (AP)—A meeting was held here yesterday to protest an option price granted a Negro couple who bought a home in an all-white section of this resort community recently.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. White, formerly of (107-27 170th St.) Jamaica, N. Y., bought the house in the Kenwood section here, reportedly paying about $12,000 for it.

After considerable controversy, the Whites last week agreed to an option whereby they agreed to resell the home for $20,000 to any buyer by Sept. 15. If no one buys the house by then, the option provides for them to move in.

ABOUT 30 residents of Kenwood, representing 15 families, met at the home of Harold Layman, drafting a statement protesting what they termed the "exorbitant price."

Henry L. Graves, developer of Kenwood, was not present but was represented by Robert S. Page III of Aberdeen.

The group said the statement was reached by unanimous agreement.

THE STATEMENT said, "it appears that the Whites (Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. White) are trying to extract an exorbitant price from the innocent property owners of this subdivision for the grave injustice the said same Whites are doing these residents. Their presence in the subdivision certainly lowers the value of the property in the division and it is felt that they should not profit from their wrong. They knew it to be a white subdivision before signing. Possibly they have been put up to this by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), possibly it is a plan of their own to make a profit beyond reason, right and justice."

THE COUPLE bought the house from Mrs. Louise Way Spence who said she advised Graves of her action beforehand. White, 68, is a retired New York city post office worker. They were to have moved into the house Sept. 6, the day the option plan was announced. The house backs up to a section of the famed Pine Needles Golf course.

The Whites were not available for comment.

county jail, pending hearing before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen, at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Details of the case which is still under investigation were not available today. It was reported, however, that the two Ramos men were visiting in the Eggerman home when a quarrel began, followed by fisticuffs in which Mr. Eggerman sustained a black eye and his father minor injuries.

At 10:30 a. m., Sunday, Mr. Eggerman notified the sheriff's office that his father had disappeared. Deputys located his father as he was returning from Benedictine Hospital where he had gone for treatment, Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg reported.

AT 2:25 P. M., Sunday, the Port Ewen Fire Department was called to the Eggerman Woven Label Factory, Route 9W where a fire had apparently broken out in a storeroom.

Chief Edward F. Maines said the smoke was "terrific but the blaze was not serious" and was brought under control in a few minutes. Some damage was done to the storeroom and the office, but the machinery was apparently not affected, he said.

The Port Ewen Fire Department had three hose lines on the building which is located in the rear of the Eggerman home.

Origin of the fire has not been determined and is still under investigation it was reported.

WHEN THE fire department arrived at the scene, Mr. Eggerman was found in some bushes in back of the factory apparently in a state of shock and was taken to Kingston Hospital in the emergency truck of the fire department.

to 923 the total outside the city so far this year, compared with 542 cases in the corresponding period of 1954.

The department said that one-third of the total cases this year were paralytic and two-thirds non-paralytic. The normal ratio is the reverse.

Meanwhile, the polio incidence was so low yesterday in Boston that for the first time this season the Boston Health Department did not issue a tabulation of cases.

Two Boston hospitals, both of which have been handling numerous polio cases during the outbreak, did not report a single case.

John Long, 20, of Boston's Brighton section, died of polio yesterday and four polio patients were admitted to the Children's Hospital.

Plunges to Death

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—A man who registered as Gunnar W. Larson, 53, of Willow Brook Rd., Red Hook, N. Y., at the West Side YMCA, plunged to his death early today from a window of his 11th floor room, police reported. Police said that the man who registered at the "Y" branch on June 12 last, fell or jumped to the rear yard. Pearl Viscoe, a cook at the branch, heard a noise in the rear yard and saw the body. The body was removed to Bellevue Hospital Morgue and word was sent to Red Hook police to notify relatives.

Broome DA Resigns

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP)—Robert E. Fischer resigned today as district attorney of Broome county. Fischer, 37, a Binghamton Republican, delivered his resignation personally to Gov. Harriman. The governor's office said Fischer had given "compelling personal reasons" as the cause for his resignation. There was no elaboration.

2 Fires Damage Buildings in City

A fire, believed to have started from an overheated exhaust fan, damaged the building housing Judie's Restaurant, 395 Albany avenue Sunday afternoon and another early Sunday of undetermined origin damaged a small building on North street.

Firemen were called at 12:66 a. m., Sunday for the fire on North street near the Santa Maria Hall. It happened shortly after a display of fireworks in that area, but firemen were unable to determine definitely whether the blaze started from a spark.

THE BUILDING was an unoccupied addition to a house occupied by Andrew Harris. The blaze damaged a section of the roof and some railroad ties near it also caught fire.

Men and equipment from Central and Cornell stations, Cordts and Union hose companies responded.

The call for the fire at Judie's Restaurant was at 3:41 p. m. Central and Wiltwyck stations responded.

THE BLAZE apparently extended from an exhaust fan and lower broiler, upward through a partition to the second floor bath room. A section of wall on the second floor and some attic flooring were removed to check the blaze which caused no serious damage elsewhere in the building.

A false alarm was sounded from Box 2251 at Abruyn street and the Strand at 12:40 a. m., Sunday, and a call today at 10:48 a. m., was due to smoke from the burning of rubbish at the rear of Andy's Furniture Co., 86 Broadway.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—The stock market made a little progress in the early afternoon today, but the performance had a dull look about it.

Most price changes were small but they ranged from around 2 points higher to 1 point lower with one or two exceptions.

The pace of trading was rather good and just about matched Friday's 2,480,000 shares.

Railroads provided the greatest disappointment for traders. Their prices were narrowly mixed.

Some aircrafts did well, including Republic Aviation. Chemicals showed a lot of small gains. The steels and motors were mixed.

The American Stock Exchange was active today with prices generally higher.

The corporate bond market was higher. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were steady.

Chrysler Models Show Emphasis on Safety Features

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

Detroit, Sept. 12 (AP)—Chrysler Corp's 1956 model cars, introducing pushbutton automatic drive control, numerous new safety features and a new ultra-modern body design concept were displayed at a press preview today.

The showing, at Chrysler's proving grounds at Chelsea, west of here, disclosed that Chrysler, like other car makers, has been carrying on extensive safety tests.

In these tests, particular emphasis has been given to a new type door latch, designed to prevent doors from popping open in any but most unusual crashes. Chrysler calls them "life guard" latches. They will be standard on all Chrysler Corp. cars.

THE PUSH BUTTON drive, to be standard on all Plymouth, DeSoto, Dodge, Chrysler and Imperial models equipped with automatic transmissions, will be controlled from the instrument panel, left of the steering wheel. buttons for neutral, low, drive and reverse which are illuminated for night driving.

Chrysler emphasizes that the left-of-the-wheel installation keeps the buttons out of reach of children. It noted also that shifting with the new device is as gentle as operating a pushbutton radio.

Linkage between the control and transmission consists of a single armored cable. Actuation of the various gears is accomplished when the cable moves varying distances as the pushbuttons are depressed.

THE DEVICE is designed so the engine cannot be started in any gear except neutral. Another built-in safety factor prevents the transmission from accidentally being shifted into reverse at speeds above 10 miles an hour.

Offered as optional equipment are safety seat belts and a newly designed vacuum-operated brake system with automatic transmission installations.

Chrysler calls the new body styling concept "flight-sweep." Rear fenders and quarter panels feature the fin treatment. Taillight units, integrated into the fins, carrying out the aircraft motif evident in the over-all styling.

New high-sweep fenders emphasize the low silhouette of all five lines of Chrysler Corp. cars.

FOUR-DOOR HARDTOP models will be offered in all lines, along with advances in engines that will present higher output and increased compression ratios. Also incorporated into the new model design are new 12-volt electrical systems.

A major optional installation for 1956 models is a "highway Hi-Fi" record player, developed for all five Chrysler lines by CBS-Laboratories.

Some specific details of the new cars, especially power output and compression ratios were withheld for later announcement separately by each of the divisions. These announcements are expected to start next week with public introductions of the new cars set for some time in October.

Prices of the new cars also are being withheld until the public introductions.

Suggests

good idea to keep an open mind about the possibility of making the air force academy course five years instead of four, as now planned.

Leading educators, commenting on the President's proposal, generally agreed that longer college training is needed in specialized fields such as engineering, the sciences and education.

But Raymond F. Howes, staff associate of the American Council on Education, said the situation is "too complicated" to generalize on the number of years students should attend college. Generally speaking, he said, the feeling in higher education is that the aptitude of the individual and the type of course he is taking should be the guiding factors.

The talk about retirement of older folks came after the President had remarked that medical science in some cases is outstripping progress in other fields. He said people are living longer nowadays, but that generally they still are being required to retire at the same age as before—60 to 65.

On the education theme, the President said one great difficulty today is that "college education is not provided free and high school education is."

Operator Licenses Being Renewed At Motor Bureau

Operator's licenses, which expire September 30, are being renewed at the Ulster County Motor Vehicle Bureau, Main street, it has been announced by County Clerk Lawrence D. Craft.

In pointing out that operators driving after that date without a renewal will be subject to arrest, Mr. Craft urged early renewals to avoid last minute congestion and long delays in line at the motor vehicle office.

RENEWALS this year require the applicant to answer a series of questions regarding health and disability. Under paragraph 12, the applicant must answer eight subdivisions regarding various forms of illness or disability. Should the applicant answer in the affirmative, full particulars, including dates and present physical condition must be supplied.

If serious illness or disability of certain kinds has been suffered since issuance of the last license, it may be necessary to appear before a motor vehicle inspector for an examination or an affidavit may be required from a physician. Under certain circumstances where disability has resulted the local motor vehicle bureau office cannot issue a renewal and it may be issued from Albany after sufficient evidence of physical ability has been supplied.

Protest Option Price on Home Granted Negroes

Southern Pines, N. C., Sept. 12 (AP)—A meeting was held here yesterday to protest an option price granted a Negro couple who bought a home in an all-white section of this resort community recently.

The couple, Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. White, formerly of (107-27 170th St.) Jamaica, N. Y., bought the house in the Kenwood section here, reportedly paying about $12,000 for it.

After considerable controversy, the Whites last week agreed to an option whereby they agreed to resell the home for $20,000 to any buyer by Sept. 15. If no one buys the house by then, the option provides for them to move in.

ABOUT 30 residents of Kenwood, representing 15 families, met at the home of Harold Layman, drafting a statement protesting what they termed the "exorbitant price."

Henry L. Graves, developer of Kenwood, was not present but was represented by Robert S. Page III of Aberdeen.

The group said the statement was reached by unanimous agreement.

THE STATEMENT said, "it appears that the Whites (Mr. and Mrs. Martin L. White) are trying to extract an exorbitant price from the innocent property owners of this subdivision for the grave injustice the said same Whites are doing these residents. Their presence in the subdivision certainly lowers the value of the property in the division and it is felt that they should not profit from their wrong. They knew it to be a white subdivision before signing. Possibly they have been put up to this by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP), possibly it is a plan of their own to make a profit beyond reason, right and justice."

THE COUPLE bought the house from Mrs. Louise Way Spence who said she advised Graves of her action beforehand. White, 68, is a retired New York city post office worker. They were to have moved into the house Sept. 6, the day the option plan was announced. The house backs up to a section of the famed Pine Needles Golf course.

The Whites were not available for comment.

2 Fires Damage Buildings in City

A fire, believed to have started from an overheated exhaust fan, damaged the building housing Judie's Restaurant, 395 Albany avenue Sunday afternoon and another early Sunday of undetermined origin damaged a small building on North street.

Firemen were called at 12:66 a. m., Sunday for the fire on North street near the Santa Maria Hall. It happened shortly after a display of fireworks in that area, but firemen were unable to determine definitely whether the blaze started from a spark.

THE BUILDING was an unoccupied addition to a house occupied by Andrew Harris. The blaze damaged a section of the roof and some railroad ties near it also caught fire.

Men and equipment from Central and Cornell stations, Cordts and Union hose companies responded.

The call for the fire at Judie's Restaurant was at 3:41 p. m. Central and Wiltwyck stations responded.

THE BLAZE apparently extended from an exhaust fan and lower broiler, upward through a partition to the second floor bath room. A section of wall on the second floor and some attic flooring were removed to check the blaze which caused no serious damage elsewhere in the building.

A false alarm was sounded from Box 2251 at Abruyn street and the Strand at 12:40 a. m., Sunday, and a call today at 10:48 a. m., was due to smoke from the burning of rubbish at the rear of Andy's Furniture Co., 86 Broadway.

Port Ewen Man

county jail, pending hearing before Justice of the Peace Francis E. Palen, Jr., of Port Ewen, at 7:30 p. m. Friday.

Details of the case which is still under investigation were not available today. It was reported, however, that the two Ramos men were visiting in the Eggerman home when a quarrel began, followed by fisticuffs in which Mr. Eggerman sustained a black eye and his father minor injuries.

At 10:30 a. m., Sunday, Mr. Eggerman notified the sheriff's office that his father had disappeared. Deputys located his father as he was returning from Benedictine Hospital where he had gone for treatment, Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburg reported.

AT 2:25 P. M., Sunday, the Port Ewen Fire Department was called to the Eggerman Woven Label Factory, Route 9W where a fire had apparently broken out in a storeroom.

Chief Edward F. Maines said the smoke was "terrific but the blaze was not serious" and was brought under control in a few minutes. Some damage was done to the storeroom and the office, but the machinery was apparently not affected, he said.

The Port Ewen Fire Department had three hose lines on the building which is located in the rear of the Eggerman home.

Origin of the fire has not been determined and is still under investigation it was reported.

WHEN THE fire department arrived at the scene, Mr. Eggerman was found in some bushes in back of the factory apparently in a state of shock and was taken to Kingston Hospital in the emergency truck of the fire department.

Present at the scene were District Attorney Howard C. St. John, Assistant District Attorney John Schick, Sheriff Cluett Schantz, Undersheriff Vredenburg, County Investigator Arthur Brown, and Deputys Harrison Rose, Lyman Ellsworth and James Morano.

Two State

to 923 the total outside the city so far this year, compared with 542 cases in the corresponding period of 1954.

The department said that one-third of the total cases this year were paralytic and two-thirds non-paralytic. The normal ratio is the reverse.

Meanwhile, the polio incidence was so low yesterday in Boston that for the first time this season the Boston Health Department did not issue a tabulation of cases.

Two Boston hospitals, both of which have been handling numerous polio cases during the outbreak, did not report a single case.

John Long, 20, of Boston's Brighton section, died of polio yesterday and four polio patients were admitted to the Children's Hospital.

Plunges to Death

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—A man who registered as Gunnar W. Larson, 53, of Willow Brook Rd., Red Hook, N. Y., at the West Side YMCA, plunged to his death early today from a window of his 11th floor room, police reported. Police said that the man who registered at the "Y" branch on June 12 last, fell or jumped to the rear yard. Pearl Viscoe, a cook at the branch, heard a noise in the rear yard and saw the body. The body was removed to Bellevue Hospital Morgue and word was sent to Red Hook police to notify relatives.

Broome DA Resigns

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP)—Robert E. Fischer resigned today as district attorney of Broome county. Fischer, 37, a Binghamton Republican, delivered his resignation personally to Gov. Harriman. The governor's office said Fischer had given "compelling personal reasons" as the cause for his resignation. There was no elaboration.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Sept. 12 (AP)—The stock market made a little progress in the early afternoon today, but the performance had a dull look about it.

Most price changes were small but they ranged from around 2 points higher to 1 point lower with one or two exceptions.

The pace of trading was rather good and just about matched Friday's 2,480,000 shares.

Railroads provided the greatest disappointment for traders. Their prices were narrowly mixed.

Some aircrafts did well, including Republic Aviation. Chemicals showed a lot of small gains. The steels and motors were mixed.

The American Stock Exchange was active today with prices generally higher.

The corporate bond market was higher. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were steady.

Chrysler Models Show Emphasis on Safety Features

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

Detroit, Sept. 12 (AP)—Chrysler Corp's 1956 model cars, introducing pushbutton automatic drive control, numerous new safety features and a new ultra-modern body design concept were displayed at a press preview today.

The showing, at Chrysler's proving grounds at Chelsea, west of here, disclosed that Chrysler, like other car makers, has been carrying on extensive safety tests.

In these tests, particular emphasis has been given to a new type door latch, designed to prevent doors from popping open in any but most unusual crashes. Chrysler calls them "life guard" latches. They will be standard on all Chrysler Corp. cars.

THE PUSH BUTTON drive, to be standard on all Plymouth, DeSoto, Dodge, Chrysler and Imperial models equipped with automatic transmissions, will be controlled from the instrument panel, left of the steering wheel, buttons for neutral, low, drive and reverse which are illuminated for night driving.

Chrysler emphasizes that the left-of-the-wheel installation keeps the buttons out of reach of children. It noted also that shifting with the new device is as gentle as operating a pushbutton radio.

Linkage between the control and transmission consists of a single armored cable. Actuation of the various gears is accomplished when the cable moves varying distances as the pushbuttons are depressed.

THE DEVICE is designed so the engine cannot be started in any gear except neutral. Another built-in safety factor prevents the transmission from accidentally being shifted into reverse at speeds above 10 miles an hour.

Offered as optional equipment are safety seat belts and a newly designed vacuum-operated brake system with automatic transmission installations.

Chrysler calls the new body styling concept "flight-sweep." Rear fenders and quarter panels feature the fin treatment. Taillight units, integrated into the fins, carrying out the aircraft motif evident in the over-all styling.

New high-sweep fenders emphasize the low silhouette of all five lines of Chrysler Corp. cars.

FOUR-DOOR HARDTOP models will be offered in all lines, along with advances in engines that will present higher output and increased compression ratios. Also incorporated into the new model design are new 12-volt electrical systems.

A major optional installation for 1956 models is a "highway Hi-Fi" record player, developed for all five Chrysler lines by CBS-Laboratories.

Some specific details of the new cars, especially power output and compression ratios were withheld for later announcement separately by each of the divisions. These announcements are expected to start next week with public introductions of the new cars set for some time in October.

Prices of the new cars also are being withheld until the public introductions.

Suggests

good idea to keep an open mind about the possibility of making the air force academy course five years instead of four, as now planned.

Leading educators, commenting on the President's proposal, generally agreed that longer college training is needed in specialized fields such as engineering, the sciences and education.

But Raymond F. Howes, staff associate of the American Council on Education, said the situation is "too complicated" to generalize on the number of years students should attend college. Generally speaking, he said, the feeling in higher education is that the aptitude of the individual and the type of course he is taking should be the guiding factors.

The talk about retirement of older folks came after the President had remarked that medical science in some cases is outstripping progress in other fields. He said people are living longer nowadays, but that generally they still are being required to retire at the same age as before—60 to 65.

On the education theme, the President said one great difficulty today is that "college education is not provided free and high school education is."

Ardonia Woman Finds Way Out Of Area Woods

A search for a 73-year-old Ardonia woman ended happily at 10:30 a. m., today when Mrs. Paula Sonnenberg emerged unharmed from nearby woods where she had gone mushroom picking about 4 p. m., Sunday.

Mrs. Sonnenberg, who resides with a daughter, went mushroom picking in the woods between Ardonia and Milton. When she failed to return home, her daughter notified police. The daughter told police her mother sometimes was subject to dizzy spells.

Searching parties, headed by Lieut. J. J. Micklas of the Ferndale state police, 15 troopers, Sheriff Cluett Schantz and several deputies, combed the area with some 200 volunteers.

The woman came out of the woods today on Rabbit Run road in the vicinity of Tuckers Corners.

Chinese Reds Need Years To Attain U.S. Economy

London, Sept. 12 (AP) — Mao Tse-tung has charged his timetable for building up Red China's industries. The Chinese Communist chieftain is telling his people 50 years will be needed to put the nation's economy on a level with Britain or the United States.

"These things take time," is the new propaganda theme.

WHEN THE REDS took over six years ago they promised a relatively quick march toward the goal of a powerful industrialized nation.

According to official statements, Mao now figures he will need about 15 years to squeeze out private businessmen and independent farmers. Then Red China's economy will fall into the pattern laid down by Russian communism.

The revised schedule was arrived at after Peiping took note of a disappointing amount of aid from Russia.

BRITISH RESEARCHERS turned up these facts after studying the full texts of the detailed economic reports delivered before the recent National Peoples' Congress in Red China. Significant passages in the reports omitted from summaries broadcast by Peiping radio, but they later appeared in Communist newspapers which have reached London.

One of the most interesting revelations made in the Congress papers was that Peiping is paying heavily for the goods coming from Russia. Food badly needed at home, plus other agricultural and mineral products, is going to eastern Europe in exchange for these industrial tools.

EARLIER THE Chinese Reds had given the impression that a lot of Russian capital goods was coming to them gratis. Now it is disclosed that Russia's free aid is confined largely to the loan of designers and other experts to help in the construction of 156 major industrial projects.

This could be one of the reasons why Mao has adopted a more conciliatory tone toward the United States in recent weeks. With Russian aid limited, Peiping may hope for a lifting of the western embargo on the sale to Red China of Strategic goods such as heavy generators and machine tools.

But western experts think that even an easing of the embargo will do little to help the Chinese Reds. They doubt Peiping has the goods or the gold to pay for big scale imports from the west

MILTON WOMAN HONORED—Mrs. Eliza Keates Young of Milton was one of six women honored at the opening of the New York State Fair at Syracuse when the Harriet May Mills Memorial building, center of women's activities at the fair, was enlarged and a new addition named in honor of Martha H. Eddy, superintendent of women's activities from 1949 through 1954. A plaque was placed in one of the lounges of the building in honor of Mrs. Young, member of the original building committee in 1933. The plaque was accepted by Miss Eleanor Young, daughter, in the absence of Mrs. Young who was unable to make the trip to Syracuse. Three other plaques were also placed in honor of the other members of the committee. Mrs. Young, 85, became interested in the fair through Home Bureau movements. In 1925 Mrs. Young was elected to the state Federation of Home Bureaus, serving to 1929. She was named member of the Fair Advisory Board in 1930 and campaigned for the original Women's building. Mrs. Young was a member of the famous "committee of 21" appointed in the 20's to make survey of the rural school situation which resulted in the abolishment of the "little red schoolhouse" so familiar prior thereto in rural areas and supplanted by modern schools. In 1946 she completed a history of Ulster county, covering about 40 years. The plaque was presented at a luncheon last Saturday and over the plaque will be hung a picture of Mrs. Young.

Allowance Checks Reach School Vets In Two Months

Veterans starting school this fall under the Korean GI Bill can avoid financial troubles by taking enough money of their own along to see them through their first two months of training, F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration Contact Office, 286 Fair street, said today.

Under the law, it takes about two months for their first GI allowance checks to reach them. Once the allowances start coming, they will cover every month of training completed, as long as veterans make sure their schools file monthly attendance certificates with the VA.

Sheehan gave these reasons for the length of time required to make the initial GI allowance payments:

FIRST, UNDER the law, the allowances must be paid after the end of the month of training completed, and not before. Therefore, a veteran could not possibly receive his money the day he enters school.

For veterans who begin training after the 20th of the month, the GI allowances usually are not paid until some time after the end of the following month of training.

These factors account for at least one month's delay.

SECOND, AFTER the close of the month, the veteran must sign a certification stating he was attending class during the month. The school sends this certification to VA. Usually, a veterans check should go out within 20 days after the time VA receives the certification. That accounts for the remainder of the two-month waiting period, Sheehan explained that under the Korean GI Bill, a veteran receives a single GI allowance check to cover each month of training. With the help of that check, he must meet all his own training expenses—tuition, books, fees, supplies and the like.

VA does not make separate payments to schools, as it does in the case of veterans training under the original World War 2 GI Bill.

For veterans in school full-time under the Korean GI Bill, the monthly allowance rates are $110, with no dependents; $135, with one dependent, and $160 with more than one dependent.

Allowance Checks Reach School Vets In Two Months

Veterans starting school this fall under the Korean GI Bill can avoid financial troubles by taking enough money of their own along to see them through their first two months of training, F. William Sheehan, officer in charge, Veterans Administration Contact Office, 286 Fair street, said today.

Under the law, it takes about two months for their first GI allowance checks to reach them. Once the allowances start coming, they will cover every month of training completed, as long as veterans make sure their schools file monthly attendance certificates with the VA.

Sheehan gave these reasons for the length of time required to make the initial GI allowance payments:

FIRST, UNDER the law, the allowances must be paid after the end of the month of training completed, and not before. Therefore, a veteran could not possibly receive his money the day he enters school.

For veterans who begin training after the 20th of the month, the GI allowances usually are not paid until some time after the end of the following month of training.

These factors account for at least one month's delay.

SECOND, AFTER the close of the month, the veteran must sign a certification stating he was attending class during the month. The school sends this certification to VA. Usually, a veterans check should go out within 20 days after the time VA receives the certification. That accounts for the remainder of the two-month waiting period, Sheehan explained that under the Korean GI Bill, a veteran receives a single GI allowance check to cover each month of training. With the help of that check, he must meet all his own training expenses—tuition, books, fees, supplies and the like.

VA does not make separate payments to schools, as it does in the case of veterans training under the original World War 2 GI Bill.

For veterans in school full-time under the Korean GI Bill, the monthly allowance rates are $110, with no dependents; $135, with one dependent, and $160 with more than one dependent.

REINS FOR A RUNAWAY

Since the first atomic bomb blast, a decade ago, there have been popular fears that such a blast might set off a mammoth chain reaction and blow up the earth. The reassurance of scientists, plus the evidence of a world intact after numerous test-explosions, has calmed such fears.

But the matter has been brought to public attention again by Sir Robert Robinson, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science. This eminent scientist did not flatly assert that some day a giant H-bomb might blow up the world. He did pointedly ask the physicists: "Do you really know enough about nuclear reactions to be sure there are no loopholes? Has every conceivable care been considered?"

Professor Maurice H. L. Bryce, one of Britain's leading theoretical physicists, retorted bluntly that the thing Sir Robert fears "is an impossibility." But in his next breath he said, "We know of no physical process whatever from which an uncontrolled chain reaction could emerge."

That is the thing that gives a layman pause: Nothing we know of would start such a reaction. This is precisely what the president of Britain's leading scientific association is getting at—the fact that we are not sure. There are things we do not know.

Sir Robert suggests that scientists of various nations consult "before novel and greatly increased releases of energy are attempted." Such consultation would give the world welcome reassurance that every possibility has been considered before vast new test explosions are undertaken.

NOISE ANNOYS

Civilization provides many good things, but silence is not one of them. Noise is a by-product of our complex society.

Although by no means all noise is bothersome, the ear drum is severely assaulted wherever there are crowds of people and the mechancal slaves that do their bidding. Beyond certain limits of tolerance, such noise causes extreme nervousness and even impairment of hearing.

Fortunately, scientists are learning how to reduce the volume of aggravating sound. Some machines have been redesigned to this end. Airplane passengers are more comfortable because high-frequency engine noise has been reduced by special cabin linings. In restaurants, insulation absorbs some noise and then the customers help by talking more softly.

One of the most clamorous products of civilization is the jet plane. It has been estimated that a 10,000 horsepower jet makes about as much noise as a billion and a half persons talking all at once. But something can be done about that terrific roar. The other day the various services using a large midwestern airport adopted a program intended to reduce jet noise.

Some day, scientists may have learned enough so that civilization will be as quiet and peaceful as an afternoon in the country. Meanwhile, it is good to know some progress is being made.

Don't let Shakespeare or anyone else fool you. No school child drags his feet unwillingly to school—at least not the first week. The boys are too anxious to look over the new sports program and the girls want to know whether any of the other girls have the same new sweaters.

LIFE-SAVING DRESS

"Joe Doakes, 47, RFD 2, was killed Wednesday night while walking along the highway. The driver of the car said that Doakes was wearing dark clothing, and he could not see him until too late."

Notices like this appear frequently in newspapers throughout the country and nothing much is done about them. A few of the more prudent wear or carry something white while walking on a road at night, and some carry a flashlight. The great majority, however, set out with no attention to dress. If they give the danger of being hit a thought, the reaction is, "Oh, well, it won't happen to me."

It could happen to you. Like any other recurring danger it should be guarded against. A new material for clothing which lights up when an automobile beam meets it has been put on the market. Under a direct light it makes garments of any color look silvery white. This ought to offer ample protection. But whatever method is used is unimportant as long as sensible precaution is taken.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

SOCIAL SECURITY

Our society is becoming so over-organized that more and more people are becoming holes in IBM cards. What happens to the man who does not fit a hole, let us say, a man who earns 67 cents more than the Social Security rules permit? Well, he either arranges not to get the 67 cents, or he gets it from an honest employer in cash and never reports it, or he is in trouble as his benefits might be confiscated by a zealous bureaucrat.

The smartest way to beat the holes in the IBM machines is to refuse to be paid by check, and to insist that any money on hand was left over from last year, because even crap game winnings should be reported.

This thing called Social Security is a swindle because the recipient does not get enough to keep him, nor is he permitted to earn enough to do well. The only honest way to administer such a system is to pay out to everyone the same amount no matter how much money he has or how much he earns.

I often wondered why fine, strong, capable young men, some of them college graduates, accept jobs as policemen or firemen when they could make more money at pleasanter work like being a salesman or a truck-driver. After all, it requires no tremendous mentality for a man to direct traffic or steer the wheel of a fire engine. And some of these fellows seem to be very intelligent.

A friend of mine who is well-read and an excellent conversationalist is a traffic cop, which I thought was wasting real talent. It turned out, however, that he had calculated carefully. Sometime in his early 40's, he will have a sufficient pension to take care of himself and whatever family he then has, and at that time he will go into business or open a private detective agency or become an anti-Communist screener for corporations or join The Fund for the Republic.

The fact that he gets a pension does not prevent him from earning whatever he can. That is different from the Social Security setup which places limitations upon the recipient's earning. In a word, Social Security is not a human right but a limited benefit available only to those who can earn insufficiently. Apparently, it is the intent of the Social Security system to provide a minimum basis for living while increasing the number of unemployed.

I often wonder who thinks up these grandiose social schemes that have fallen upon us. For instance, when one goes into the question of men and women of 45 being unable to get new jobs, and enforced retirement at 62, all the objectionable social conditions arising therefrom present themselves. One would imagine that a firm would want to hire a man who has had experience and who possesses great skill and who may be out of work as a result of a merger or of firms moving say from New England to the southwest and he, for one reason or another, cannot move.

So, the more one goes into this problem, the more it becomes apparent that in group insurance, which most pension funds are, the load cannot be too heavy on the side of oldsters or the rate goes up. Therefore, it is best to take on no new people of middle age because they become older quicker than youngsters do. As a matter of fact, to keep premiums low, it is soundest to employ youngsters.

As youngsters possess no experience, great conceit and scant know-how, being in the figuratively crawling stage as compared with a mature man, it is soundest to make most machinery as automatic as possible. And this applies in the office as well as the shop. Increasingly, bosses talk into dictating machines and spell out long words. We are kept alive by doctors and clinics; we take annual medical examinations; we watch our waistline, reduce our smoking, take our pulse every once in a while, use Clinitest tablets to be sure that we are not spilling sugar, brush our teeth four times a day, keep physically fit—and then comes a merger just as one passes 45, and there is no job and the man is unemployable. How old must one be, to be too old?

That Body of Yours

APPENDICITIS AFTER SIXTY

There has been a marked decrease in the death rate from acute appendicitis over the last two decades. This has been the result largely of more education on the part of both patient and physician in recognizing appendicitis early and performing surgery as soon as possible. Acute appendicitis is one of the commonest of surgical emergencies and the diagnosis is usually easily reached. However, patients at the extremes of age, the elderly and the very young, sometimes do not have the typical features of the condition and thus are not as easily recognized. For example, an elderly patient may have quite a mild course of illness with no acute symptoms yet at operation is found to have a perforated appendix with abscess formation. The result is that delay in diagnosis in the elderly is common and hence operation may be attempted later than is desirable for best results.

Dr. Ira S. Goldenberg, instructor in surgery at Yale University School of Medicine discusses a group of 129 patients over 60 years of age who had appendectomies at the Yale-New Haven Medical Centre. There are usually slightly more males than females in such a group; in this case 55 per cent were male. Of the group, 44 per cent, nearly half, had had symptoms for less than 24 hours before operation. Thirty-six per cent had had symptoms from 24 to 96 hours (one to four days) and 20 per cent had had symptoms for over four days, some for as long as two weeks.

What were the symptoms? In 96 per cent there was tenderness in the right lower quarter of the abdomen at the time of admission to hospital. Nausea was present in 45 per cent and vomiting in 32 per cent. Diarrhoea was present in 12 per cent and constipation in 19 per cent. Cathartics were taken by half of this latter group during the days immediately before being brought to hospital. It is difficult to estimate in how many of this group who took cathartics had a perforrated appendix as a result of the laxative.

Treatment of appendicitis in the elderly is complicated by the fact that there is often present general degenerative diseases involving especially the heart and blood vessels, lungs and kidneys. In this particular series, 57 per cent had arteriosclerosis (hardening and thickening of the lining of the arteries) and half of this group were taking digitalis. Another 12 per cent had asthma and 11 per cent had diabetes. In addition there is often undernourishment, anemia and dehydration (drying out of the tissues) in the elderly patient which may prevent as good a result from operation as is obtained in the younger patient. There were just six deaths, however, in this group, a death rate of approximately 4.6 per cent.

"I Bought It on Time Today"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington—(NEA)—Thomas P. Pike, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Supply and Logistics, is due for a financial jolt when he returns from a vacation in California.

Just before he took off a couple of days ago, Pike called his staff together to give them last-minute instructions. Then he added a short pep talk on giving money to the Red Cross for flood relief in the Northeast.

"In fact, whatever comes in during the next week I'll match," he said with enthusiasm. Pike's sales pitch paid off. At last report over $650 had been contributed. Exclaimed one secretary with an impish grin, "This will really burn a hole in the old man's pocket."

IT WILL BE a miracle if Japan's Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu didn't leave Washington with an acute case of indigestion, for he was wined and dined at receptions and dinners since arriving.

The banquet Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave in his honor broke all records, however. It made those famous feeds of Henry VIII look like snack lunches.

Here's what the waiters brought on: Cold vichyossise, filet of pompano amandine, Toillyfuisse wine, filet of beef roti, burgundy, braised endive, string beans, potatoes Parisienne, fois gras in aspic, champagne, Boston lettuce salad a la maison, mousse anannas sur socle, petits fours, coffee and liqueurs.

WHEN SECRETARY of the Treasury George Humphrey and Budget Director Rowland Hughes had their briefing session for reporters on the prospects of budget balancing and tax revision, they came into the President's press conference room to find two microphones on the desk before them.

"What do they want us to do?" cracked Humphrey, "talk out of both sides of our mouths?"

IN PRESENTING a certificate of appreciation to Russia's Deputy Agriculture Minister Vladimir Matskevitch, for his talk at the National Press Club, Ben Grant of U. S. News accidentlly spilled a pitcher of cream on it.

"Oh, don't mind that," said Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who was sitting nearby, and almost got some of the cream spilled on his blue suit. "We've gots lots of it," he explained.

SECRETARY OF STATE John Foster Dulles, who has traveled the equivalent of more than 10 times around the world during his three years in office, now has his baggage problems pretty well licked. He knows from experience what's essential and what is not, and Mrs. Dulles can pack for him and go any place on short notice.

Among his essential equipment is a folding bed board. European feather beds and even the usual double mattress jobs encountered in American hotels are too soft for him.

ALTHOUGH HISTORICAL giudes here don't like to admit it, liquor prices are one of the biggest tourist attractions in the nation's capital. Tipplers from miles around come to take advantage of the low cost of good booze. And most visitors find it hard to leave town without at least one souvenir bottle in their suitcase or a larger supply in the car trunk. This is one of the reasons why the yearly per capita consumption here comes to about five gallons, which is roughly five times higher than the rest of the country.

"About 12 million persons pass through Washington during a year," says a spokesman of the Distilled Spirits Institute. "It seems to be obvious that possibly a good deal more than half the liquor is sold to these out-of-towners."

WHITE HOUSE aides usually behave themselves, but the other afternoon four of them pulled off a stunt reminiscent of college pranksters on a football weekend.

They were ushers at the recent wedding of Pat Priest, daughter of Ivy Baker Priest, U.S. Treasurer. After a gigantic reception at the Sheraton-Park Hotel, the couple tried to make a clean getaway in their car. The young aides, however, managed to block both exits of the hotel driveway with their own cars.

Then they went to work on the new Ford Thunderbird of Lt. Cmdr. Pierce Andrew Jensen, Jr., the bridegroom and a White House aide himself. Tin cans were tied to the back and "Just Married" written all over the car with colored crayon. All this completely scotched the well laid plans of Mrs. Priest whose chauffeur had hidden one car so no one could touch it before the honeymoon departure.

NOW THAT JENSEN is no longer a bachelor the White House has lost its last Naval aide. Weddings and transfers have wiped out the group of five men who serve as social representatives for the Navy at the executive mansion. But they'll be replaced before the White House party season gets under why this fall and winter.

Today in Washington

Eisenhower Called Symbol Of the American Tradition

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 11 — Small wonder that Dwight Eisenhower is the most popular President America has had in half a century—every time he makes an impromptu speech he says the common-sense things that Americans enjoy hearing again and again. He is today the living symbol of traditional Americanism—the kind that started with a sturdy individualism at Plymouth Rock and has continued to this day as the backbone of the free-enterprise system.

The President in just a few sentences in his speech at Denver over the weekend reaffirmed the faith and the philosophy that have been primarily responsible for America's position today as the most powerful country industrially in the whole world.

Interpreting Lincoln's famous phrase about "government of the people, by the people, for the people," Mr. Eisenhower said:

"'For the people': we have seen the phrase tortured by demagogic types to mean that an otherwise and overbusy government takes over all the functions of living. They say: 'Now go on boys, do just what you are told and we will take care of the 165,000,000 people.' And they tortured the general welfare clause of the Constitution.

"I don't believe that is what Lincoln meant at all. If we are for the people, which means for the individual as such, we go first to the ten first amendments of the Constitution—to the Bill of Rights. That was written for the people.

"That Bill of Rights does not guarantee to each of us a profitable living. It guarantees to each of us an equal opportunity with all others to earn our living for ourselves and our families, and to protect our future.

WE COULD DISCUSS further what we mean by 'for the people.' But I refer to another quotation of Lincoln's which was generally to this effect: The function of government is to do for the peope what the individual cannot do at all, or do so well for himself, and in all those things which the individual can do for himself, the gevernment ought not to interfere.

"Now I think today that is as good a presentation of the Republican case as I know how to make."

The President was tactful and restrained. He might have referred to the way the New Deal and Fair Deal packed the Federal judiciary including the Supreme Court of the United States to distort the Constitution and tear down decisions of more than 150 years standing.

Not only in proclaiming party doctrine, moreover, but in dealing with the delicate subject of the "Indispensable man," did Mr. Eisenhower speak sensibly. He was modest in acknowledging the loyalty of the party to him but at the same time pointed out logically that a party must not allow the impression to be cultivated that it has only one good man who could serve in the Presidency. This is by far the wiser approach for the future even though in 1956 Dwight Eisenhower, barring any physical mishap, will be renominated.

What a refreshing contrast between the Eisenhower utterances and those of Adlai Stevenson on the same day. The 1952 candidate could only paraphrase Lincoln to say that today there is a "government of the rich, by the rich and for the rich."

HAPPILY THE RICH today constitute almost the entire population. There are, for instance, according to the latest figures obtained from the Federal Reserve Board, about 18,800,000 families with an income of $5,000 a year or over out of a total number of 49,400,000 families in America. While the $5,000-a-year-and-over group is about 38 per cent of all the families, this same group now buys about three-fourths of all the new cars sold each year. There are indeed about 5,000,000 families that own two or more cars.

Where would the automobile industry and its hundreds of thousands of workers be if the individuals constituting this important market did not have the initiative and the opportunity to earn $5,000 a year which is certainly "rich" in terms of half a century ago? Incidentally there are in addition about 15,000,000 families with incomes between $3,000 and $5,000 a year which isn't exactly "poor" either.

Indications are that the next set of figures issued will show—according to the present rate of growth—that there are about 36,000,000 families earning $3,000 a year or more, which is about three-fourths of all the families in the country. There are a lot of votes in that mass of families and if the Democratic party leaders intend to revive Huey Long's doctrines of redistributing wealth they will find a lot of protests against tampering with incomes of those above the $3,000 mark.

Old Pit

Thickest bed of bituminous coal in the world, a seam reaching 400 feet in depth, has been worked as an open pit for more than 600 years, at Fushun, Manchuria.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—I don't get many phone calls here so when it rang I thought "somebody probably getting a wrong number." But than a man said, "Peg, I said "yes, whodat?" He said "Ole Olsen, I am up at Caux Switzerland; you know, moral re-armament."

I said "Is that a gag?" He said "no, I am serious. Paul Campbell is here beside me. He got your letter with those questions so I said if Peg has the facts he will treat us fairly; let's call him up."

Ole Olsen is the first half of the old corny vaudeville team of Olsen and Johnson who worked the hinterland for years until all of a sudden—wham! They hit Broadway at the Winter Garden in a wild shebang called "Hellzapoppin" and hung them from the rafters until they had to bolt the doors to take a rest. I have known the pair of them since the 'twenties. And now here is Ole calling from Switzerland to plug a religious program with international ramifications of a platform of love, purity, honesty and unselfishness.

In a preliminary interview with Paul Campbell at Geneva a few weeks ago, I had some notes and the rather tentative piece that I wrote, a sort of practice swing, had aroused such vehement correspondence for and against, but mostly adverse, that I decided to check certain points with Mr. Campbell because some Hearst people were dealt into the system. Mr. Campbell would be a member of the prelacy if MRA had clergy. In the absence of titles and positions, he can be called nothing more than an adherent, devotee or practitioner.

I said to Ole, "according to my notes, Mr. Campbell said that when David Hearst saw the moral re-armament play, "The Vanishing Island,' in Los Angeles,, he wired Babe Meigs in Chicago to be sure to support it. According to my notes, he said 'Meigs certainly is a convinced man.' "

Ole said, "Paul is right here and he says 'yes, that's right.' Babe Meigs is with us 100 per cent. His wife is living in Frank Buchman's home at Mackinac Island right now."

David Hearst is the publisher of the Los Angeles Herald-Express. Meigs is a Hearst executive in Chicago, a giant who played football for Stagg at the University of Chicago 50 years ago. He never had a drink or a smoke in his life and is known as the Antelope because he takes strides about a block long. He has been a flier many years and still whips around in his own ship or in rented jobs which you can pick up around airports. Frank Buchman is the founder of Moral Re-armament. He is now 77 and younger people are beginning to take over the movement whose headquarters at Caux, on a mountain overlooking Montreux and Lake Geneva, include eight hotels owned by the order. Campbell and a few other founders of this center, which is the world headquarters, sold all their possessions to establish the terrestrial foothold. They have another headquarters at Mackinac Island.

I said, 'Ole, according to my notes, Campbell said Bill Hearst ordered an editorial run in the Hearst papers about MRA entitled 'It Works' and he is in favor of it. What about that?"

Ole said, "well, the most we can say is that Bill condones it. He lunched with Frank Buchman in New York recently."

Ole and Campbell both were upset over a column, out of Washington, by Ruth Montgomery which I would call a blast. She took a swing at the whole proposition but mainly at the propaganda play, "The Vanishing Island," which has been barnstorming the Orient outside the Communist territory depicting arrogance, greed and selfishness as prominent personal American traits. Ruth said it harmonized with the Communist line and I have to agree but, of course, nobody is going to argue seriously that the Reds themselves are innocent of arrogance, brutality and imperial designs on the lesser breeds.

For people professing "absolute love," this kick in the slats was a severe test. However, they love Ruth, though they might feel an inner urge to wring her pretty alabaster neck. She also exploded the fact that on the oriental, island-hopping tour of this show troupe, the U. S. Air Force provided planes for transportation. On that point I wrote Campbell and he wrote back that the Defense Department "made available three C-118 planes of the military transport service at the request of 23 senators and representatives on a cost reimbursable basis."

So, he said, "the transportation is paid for by moral re-armament at a rate which, according to the air force, covers the cost of the crew, gas and oil. These three planes have been used to carry 192 people from Manila to Bangkok, Rangoon, Colombo, Madras, Calcutta, Delhi, Karachi, Teheran, Baghdad and Cairo. Also on the schedule are Istanbul, Ankara and Athens. The contract ends Sept. 1 at Geneva.

An now Ole Olsen was urging me to come on up and see a special performance for my particular benefit. He plays bits himself.

"Congresswoman Ruth Thompson, of Michigan, and Congressman Charles Deane, of North Carolina, and professor Maletz, the atomic scientist of the Netherlands delegation, are here."

There are several other political allegories in the MRA repertoire. One of them is called "freedom," and Buchman said, "this play will go around the world. It will be played throughout Africa. It must have a cast in every town like 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' had in my youth."

Fifteen years ago, Heywood Broun and other American Communists were writing that MRA was a Fascist movement. However, communism is the one ideology which it absolutely condemns.

REINS FOR A RUNAWAY

Since the first atomic bomb blast, a decade ago, there have been popular fears that such a blast might set off a mammoth chain reaction and blow up the earth. The reassurance of scientists, plus the evidence of a world intact after numerous test-explosions, has calmed such fears.

But the matter has been brought to public attention again by Sir Robert Robinson, president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science. This eminent scientist did not flatly assert that some day a giant H-bomb might blow up the world. He did pointedly ask the physicists: "Do you really know enough about nuclear reactions to be sure there are no loopholes? Has every conceivable care been considered?"

Professor Maurice H. L. Bryce, one of Britain's leading theoretical physicists, retorted bluntly that the thing Sir Robert fears "is an impossibility." But in his next breath he said, "We know of no physical process whatever from which an uncontrolled chain reaction could emerge."

That is the thing that gives a layman pause: Nothing we know of would start such a reaction. This is precisely what the president of Britain's leading scientific association is getting at—the fact that we are not sure. There are things we do not know.

Sir Robert suggests that scientists of various nations consult "before novel and greatly increased releases of energy are attempted." Such consultation would give the world welcome reassurance that every possibility has been considered before vast new test explosions are undertaken.

NOISE ANNOYS

Civilization provides many good things, but silence is not one of them. Noise is a by-product of our complex society.

Although by no means all noise is bothersome, the ear drum is severely assaulted wherever there are crowds of people and the mechancal slaves that do their bidding. Beyond certain limits of tolerance, such noise causes extreme nervousness and even impairment of hearing.

Fortunately, scientists are learning how to reduce the volume of aggravating sound. Some machines have been redesigned to this end. Airplane passengers are more comfortable because high-frequency engine noise has been reduced by special cabin linings. In restaurants, insulation absorbs some noise and then the customers help by talking more softly.

One of the most clamorous products of civilization is the jet plane. It has been estimated that a 10,000 horsepower jet makes about as much noise as a billion and a half persons talking all at once. But something can be done about that terrific roar. The other day the various services using a large midwestern airport adopted a program intended to reduce jet noise.

Some day, scientists may have learned enough so that civilization will be as quiet and peaceful as an afternoon in the country. Meanwhile, it is good to know some progress is being made.

Don't let Shakespeare or anyone else fool you. No school child drags his feet unwillingly to school—at least not the first week. The boys are too anxious to look over the new sports program and the girls want to know whether any of the other girls have the same new sweaters.

LIFE-SAVING DRESS

"Joe Doakes, 47, RFD 2, was killed Wednesday night while walking along the highway. The driver of the car said that Doakes was wearing dark clothing, and he could not see him until too late."

Notices like this appear frequently in newspapers throughout the country and nothing much is done about them. A few of the more prudent wear or carry something white while walking on a road at night, and some carry a flashlight. The great majority, however, set out with no attention to dress. If they give the danger of being hit a thought, the reaction is, "Oh, well, it won't happen to me."

It could happen to you. Like any other recurring danger it should be guarded against. A new material for clothing which lights up when an automobile beam meets it has been put on the market. Under a direct light it makes garments of any color look silvery white. This ought to offer ample protection. But whatever method is used is unimportant as long as sensible precaution is taken.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

SOCIAL SECURITY

Our society is becoming so over-organized that more and more people are becoming holes in IBM cards. What happens to the man who does not fit a hole, let us say, a man who earns 67 cents more than the Social Security rules permit? Well, he either arranges not to get the 67 cents, or he gets it from an honest employer in cash and never reports it, or he is in trouble as his benefits might be confiscated by a zealous bureaucrat.

The smartest way to beat the holes in the IBM machines is to refuse to be paid by check, and to insist that any money on hand was left over from last year, because even crap game winnings should be reported.

This thing called Social Security is a swindle because the recipient does not get enough to keep him, nor is he permitted to earn enough to do well. The only honest way to administer such a system is to pay out to everyone the same amount no matter how much money he has or how much he earns.

I often wondered why fine, strong, capable young men, some of them college graduates, accept jobs as policemen or firemen when they could make more money at pleasanter work like being a salesman or a truck-driver. After all, it requires no tremendous mentality for a man to direct traffic or steer the wheel of a fire engine. And some of these fellows seem to be very intelligent.

A friend of mine who is well-read and an excellent conversationalist is a traffic cop, which I thought was wasting real talent. It turned out, however, that he had calculated carefully. Sometime in his early 40's, he will have a sufficient pension to take care of himself and whatever family he then has, and at that time he will go into business or open a private detective agency or become an anti-Communist screener for corporations or join The Fund for the Republic.

The fact that he gets a pension does not prevent him from earning whatever he can. That is different from the Social Security setup which places limitations upon the recipient's earning. In a word, Social Security is not a human right but a limited benefit available only to those who can earn insufficiently. Apparently, it is the intent of the Social Security system to provide a minimum basis for living while increasing the number of unemployed.

I often wonder who thinks up these grandiose social schemes that have fallen upon us. For instance, when one goes into the question of men and women of 45 being unable to get new jobs, and enforced retirement at 62, all the objectionable social conditions arising therefrom present themselves. One would imagine that a firm would want to hire a man who has had experience and who possesses great skill and who may be out of work as a result of a merger or of firms moving say from New England to the southwest and he, for one reason or another, cannot move.

So, the more one goes into this problem, the more it becomes apparent that in group insurance, which most pension funds are, the load cannot be too heavy on the side of oldsters or the rate goes up. Therefore, it is best to take on no new people of middle age because they become older quicker than youngsters do. As a matter of fact, to keep premiums low, it is soundest to employ youngsters.

As youngsters possess no experience, great conceit and scant know-how, being in the figuratively crawling stage as compared with a mature man, it is soundest to make most machinery as automatic as possible. And this applies in the office as well as the shop. Increasingly, bosses talk into dictating machines and spell out long words. We are kept alive by doctors and clinics; we take annual medical examinations; we watch our waistline, reduce our smoking, take our pulse every once in a while, use Clinitest tablets to be sure that we are not spilling sugar, brush our teeth four times a day, keep physically fit—and then comes a merger just as one passes 45, and there is no job and the man is unemployable. How old must one be, to be too old?

That Body of Yours

APPENDICITIS AFTER SIXTY

There has been a marked decrease in the death rate from acute appendicitis over the last two decades. This has been the result largely of more education on the part of both patient and physician in recognizing appendicitis early and performing surgery as soon as possible. Acute appendicitis is one of the commonest of surgical emergencies and the diagnosis is usually easily reached. However, patients at the extremes of age, the elderly and the very young, sometimes do not have the typical features of the condition and thus are not as easily recognized. For example, an elderly patient may have quite a mild course of illness with no acute symptoms yet at operation is found to have a perforated appendix with abscess formation. The result is that delay in diagnosis in the elderly is common and hence operation may be attempted later than is desirable for best results.

Dr. Ira S. Goldenberg, instructor in surgery at Yale University School of Medicine discusses a group of 129 patients over 60 years of age who had appendectomies at the Yale-New Haven Medical Centre. There are usually slightly more males than females in such a group; in this case 55 per cent were male. Of the group, 44 per cent, nearly half, had had symptoms for less than 24 hours before operation. Thirty-six per cent had had symptoms from 24 to 96 hours (one to four days) and 20 per cent had had symptoms for over four days, some for as long as two weeks.

What were the symptoms? In 96 per cent there was tenderness in the right lower quarter of the abdomen at the time of admission to hospital. Nausea was present in 45 per cent and vomiting in 32 per cent. Diarrhoea was present in 12 per cent and constipation in 19 per cent. Cathartics were taken by half of this latter group during the days immediately before being brought to hospital. It is difficult to estimate in how many of this group who took cathartics had a perforrated appendix as a result of the laxative.

Treatment of appendicitis in the elderly is complicated by the fact that there is often present general degenerative diseases involving especially the heart and blood vessels, lungs and kidneys. In this particular series, 57 per cent had arteriosclerosis (hardening and thickening of the lining of the arteries) and half of this group were taking digitalis. Another 12 per cent had asthma and 11 per cent had diabetes. In addition there is often undernourishment, anemia and dehydration (drying out of the tissues) in the elderly patient which may prevent as good a result from operation as is obtained in the younger patient. There were just six deaths, however, in this group, a death rate of approximately 4.6 per cent.

"I Bought It on Time Today"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington—(NEA)—Thomas P. Pike, Assistant Secretary of Defense for Supply and Logistics, is due for a financial jolt when he returns from a vacation in California.

Just before he took off a couple of days ago, Pike called his staff together to give them last-minute instructions. Then he added a short pep talk on giving money to the Red Cross for flood relief in the Northeast.

"In fact, whatever comes in during the next week I'll match," he said with enthusiasm. Pike's sales pitch paid off. At last report over $650 had been contributed. Exclaimed one secretary with an impish grin, "This will really burn a hole in the old man's pocket."

IT WILL BE a miracle if Japan's Foreign Minister Mamoru Shigemitsu didn't leave Washington with an acute case of indigestion, for he was wined and dined at receptions and dinners since arriving.

The banquet Secretary of State John Foster Dulles gave in his honor broke all records, however. It made those famous feeds of Henry VIII look like snack lunches.

Here's what the waiters brought on: Cold vichyossise, filet of pompano amandine, Toillyfuisse wine, filet of beef roti, burgundy, braised endive, string beans, potatoes Parisienne, fois gras in aspic, champagne, Boston lettuce salad a la maison, mousse anannas sur socle, petits fours, coffee and liqueurs.

WHEN SECRETARY of the Treasury George Humphrey and Budget Director Rowland Hughes had their briefing session for reporters on the prospects of budget balancing and tax revision, they came into the President's press conference room to find two microphones on the desk before them.

"What do they want us to do?" cracked Humphrey, "talk out of both sides of our mouths?"

IN PRESENTING a certificate of appreciation to Russia's Deputy Agriculture Minister Vladimir Matskevitch, for his talk at the National Press Club, Ben Grant of U. S. News accidentlly spilled a pitcher of cream on it.

"Oh, don't mind that," said Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, who was sitting nearby, and almost got some of the cream spilled on his blue suit. "We've gots lots of it," he explained.

SECRETARY OF STATE John Foster Dulles, who has traveled the equivalent of more than 10 times around the world during his three years in office, now has his baggage problems pretty well licked. He knows from experience what's essential and what is not, and Mrs. Dulles can pack for him and go any place on short notice.

Among his essential equipment is a folding bed board. European feather beds and even the usual double mattress jobs encountered in American hotels are too soft for him.

ALTHOUGH HISTORICAL giudes here don't like to admit it, liquor prices are one of the biggest tourist attractions in the nation's capital. Tipplers from miles around come to take advantage of the low cost of good booze. And most visitors find it hard to leave town without at least one souvenir bottle in their suitcase or a larger supply in the car trunk. This is one of the reasons why the yearly per capita consumption here comes to about five gallons, which is roughly five times higher than the rest of the country.

"About 12 million persons pass through Washington during a year," says a spokesman of the Distilled Spirits Institute. "It seems to be obvious that possibly a good deal more than half the liquor is sold to these out-of-towners."

WHITE HOUSE aides usually behave themselves, but the other afternoon four of them pulled off a stunt reminiscent of college pranksters on a football weekend.

They were ushers at the recent wedding of Pat Priest, daughter of Ivy Baker Priest, U.S. Treasurer. After a gigantic reception at the Sheraton-Park Hotel, the couple tried to make a clean getaway in their car. The young aides, however, managed to block both exits of the hotel driveway with their own cars.

Then they went to work on the new Ford Thunderbird of Lt. Cmdr. Pierce Andrew Jensen, Jr., the bridegroom and a White House aide himself. Tin cans were tied to the back and "Just Married" written all over the car with colored crayon. All this completely scotched the well laid plans of Mrs. Priest whose chauffeur had hidden one car so no one could touch it before the honeymoon departure.

NOW THAT JENSEN is no longer a bachelor the White House has lost its last Naval aide. Weddings and transfers have wiped out the group of five men who serve as social representatives for the Navy at the executive mansion. But they'll be replaced before the White House party season gets under why this fall and winter.

Today in Washington

Eisenhower Called Symbol Of the American Tradition

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Sept. 11 — Small wonder that Dwight Eisenhower is the most popular President America has had in half a century—every time he makes an impromptu speech he says the common-sense things that Americans enjoy hearing again and again. He is today the living symbol of traditional Americanism—the kind that started with a sturdy individualism at Plymouth Rock and has continued to this day as the backbone of the free-enterprise system.

The President in just a few sentences in his speech at Denver over the weekend reaffirmed the faith and the philosophy that have been primarily responsible for America's position today as the most powerful country industrially in the whole world.

Interpreting Lincoln's famous phrase about "government of the people, by the people, for the people," Mr. Eisenhower said:

"'For the people': we have seen the phrase tortured by demagogic types to mean that an otherwise and overbusy government takes over all the functions of living. They say: 'Now go on boys, do just what you are told and we will take care of the 165,000,000 people.' And they tortured the general welfare clause of the Constitution.

"I don't believe that is what Lincoln meant at all. If we are for the people, which means for the individual as such, we go first to the ten first amendments of the Constitution—to the Bill of Rights. That was written for the people.

"That Bill of Rights does not guarantee to each of us a profitable living. It guarantees to each of us an equal opportunity with all others to earn our living for ourselves and our families, and to protect our future.

WE COULD DISCUSS further what we mean by 'for the people.' But I refer to another quotation of Lincoln's which was generally to this effect: The function of government is to do for the peope what the individual cannot do at all, or do so well for himself, and in all those things which the individual can do for himself, the gevernment ought not to interfere.

"Now I think today that is as good a presentation of the Republican case as I know how to make."

The President was tactful and restrained. He might have referred to the way the New Deal and Fair Deal packed the Federal judiciary including the Supreme Court of the United States to distort the Constitution and tear down decisions of more than 150 years standing.

Not only in proclaiming party doctrine, moreover, but in dealing with the delicate subject of the "Indispensable man," did Mr. Eisenhower speak sensibly. He was modest in acknowledging the loyalty of the party to him but at the same time pointed out logically that a party must not allow the impression to be cultivated that it has only one good man who could serve in the Presidency. This is by far the wiser approach for the future even though in 1956 Dwight Eisenhower, barring any physical mishap, will be renominated.

What a refreshing contrast between the Eisenhower utterances and those of Adlai Stevenson on the same day. The 1952 candidate could only paraphrase Lincoln to say that today there is a "government of the rich, by the rich and for the rich."

HAPPILY THE RICH today constitute almost the entire population. There are, for instance, according to the latest figures obtained from the Federal Reserve Board, about 18,800,000 families with an income of $5,000 a year or over out of a total number of 49,400,000 families in America. While the $5,000-a-year-and-over group is about 38 per cent of all the families, this same group now buys about three-fourths of all the new cars sold each year. There are indeed about 5,000,000 families that own two or more cars.

Where would the automobile industry and its hundreds of thousands of workers be if the individuals constituting this important market did not have the initiative and the opportunity to earn $5,000 a year which is certainly "rich" in terms of half a century ago? Incidentally there are in addition about 15,000,000 families with incomes between $3,000 and $5,000 a year which isn't exactly "poor" either.

Indications are that the next set of figures issued will show—according to the present rate of growth—that there are about 36,000,000 families earning $3,000 a year or more, which is about three-fourths of all the families in the country. There are a lot of votes in that mass of families and if the Democratic party leaders intend to revive Huey Long's doctrines of redistributing wealth they will find a lot of protests against tampering with incomes of those above the $3,000 mark.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Rome—I don't get many phone calls here so when it rang I thought "somebody probably getting a wrong number." But than a man said, "Peg, I said "yes, whodat?" He said "Ole Olsen, I am up at Caux Switzerland; you know, moral re-armament."

I said "Is that a gag?" He said "no, I am serious. Paul Campbell is here beside me. He got your letter with those questions so I said if Peg has the facts he will treat us fairly; let's call him up."

Ole Olsen is the first half of the old corny vaudeville team of Olsen and Johnson who worked the hinterland for years until all of a sudden—wham! They hit Broadway at the Winter Garden in a wild shebang called "Hellzapoppin" and hung them from the rafters until they had to bolt the doors to take a rest. I have known the pair of them since the 'twenties. And now here is Ole calling from Switzerland to plug a religious program with international ramifications of a platform of love, purity, honesty and unselfishness.

In a preliminary interview with Paul Campbell at Geneva a few weeks ago, I had some notes and the rather tentative piece that I wrote, a sort of practice swing, had aroused such vehement correspondence for and against, but mostly adverse, that I decided to check certain points with Mr. Campbell because some Hearst people were dealt into the system. Mr. Campbell would be a member of the prelacy if MRA had clergy. In the absence of titles and positions, he can be called nothing more than an adherent, devotee or practitioner.

I said to Ole, "according to my notes, Mr. Campbell said that when David Hearst saw the moral re-armament play, "The Vanishing Island,' in Los Angeles,, he wired Babe Meigs in Chicago to be sure to support it. According to my notes, he said 'Meigs certainly is a convinced man.' "

Ole said, "Paul is right here and he says 'yes, that's right.' Babe Meigs is with us 100 per cent. His wife is living in Frank Buchman's home at Mackinac Island right now."

David Hearst is the publisher of the Los Angeles Herald-Express. Meigs is a Hearst executive in Chicago, a giant who played football for Stagg at the University of Chicago 50 years ago. He never had a drink or a smoke in his life and is known as the Antelope because he takes strides about a block long. He has been a flier many years and still whips around in his own ship or in rented jobs which you can pick up around airports. Frank Buchman is the founder of Moral Re-armament. He is now 77 and younger people are beginning to take over the movement whose headquarters at Caux, on a mountain overlooking Montreux and Lake Geneva, include eight hotels owned by the order. Campbell and a few other founders of this center, which is the world headquarters, sold all their possessions to establish the terrestrial foothold. They have another headquarters at Mackinac Island.

I said, 'Ole, according to my notes, Campbell said Bill Hearst ordered an editorial run in the Hearst papers about MRA entitled 'It Works' and he is in favor of it. What about that?"

Ole said, "well, the most we can say is that Bill condones it. He lunched with Frank Buchman in New York recently."

Ole and Campbell both were upset over a column, out of Washington, by Ruth Montgomery which I would call a blast. She took a swing at the whole proposition but mainly at the propaganda play, "The Vanishing Island," which has been barnstorming the Orient outside the Communist territory depicting arrogance, greed and selfishness as prominent personal American traits. Ruth said it harmonized with the Communist line and I have to agree but, of course, nobody is going to argue seriously that the Reds themselves are innocent of arrogance, brutality and imperial designs on the lesser breeds.

For people professing "absolute love," this kick in the slats was a severe test. However, they love Ruth, though they might feel an inner urge to wring her pretty alabaster neck. She also exploded the fact that on the oriental, island-hopping tour of this show troupe, the U. S. Air Force provided planes for transportation. On that point I wrote Campbell and he wrote back that the Defense Department "made available three C-118 planes of the military transport service at the request of 23 senators and representatives on a cost reimbursable basis."

So, he said, "the transportation is paid for by moral re-armament at a rate which, according to the air force, covers the cost of the crew, gas and oil. These three planes have been used to carry 192 people from Manila to Bangkok, Rangoon, Colombo, Madras, Calcutta, Delhi, Karachi, Teheran, Baghdad and Cairo. Also on the schedule are Istanbul, Ankara and Athens. The contract ends Sept. 1 at Geneva.

An now Ole Olsen was urging me to come on up and see a special performance for my particular benefit. He plays bits himself.

"Congresswoman Ruth Thompson, of Michigan, and Congressman Charles Deane, of North Carolina, and professor Maletz, the atomic scientist of the Netherlands delegation, are here."

There are several other political allegories in the MRA repertoire. One of them is called "freedom," and Buchman said, "this play will go around the world. It will be played throughout Africa. It must have a cast in every town like 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' had in my youth."

Fifteen years ago, Heywood Broun and other American Communists were writing that MRA was a Fascist movement. However, communism is the one ideology which it absolutely condemns.

Investment Dealers Discuss Promoting Stock and Bond Sales

After Share Of Money in Circulation

New York, Sept. 12 (AP) — A thousand investments dealers from around the United States, Canada and Hawaii are in town today to chew over the problems of that postwar phenomenon of growth—the mutual funds.

At the seventh National Mutual Fund Sales Convention they are talking about:

1. How long can the bull market keep on going—and if prices turn down sharply, how will the investors, spoiled by years of always rising prices, react?

2. How can they compete for the investor's dollar with all the institutions for savings, many now offering him higher interest rates?

3. How make today's better-heeled-than-ever Americans invest part of their larger incomes in stocks and bonds instead of spending all their money on the many appliances, goods, services and forms of recreation clamoring for ever bigger shares of it.

THE MUTUAL FUNDS are open-end investments trusts. They sell shares to the public, and thus pool many small savings to buy stocks, bonds and other securities. The funds are obligated by law to buy back at any time the shares they have sold at prices determined by asset value. This price changes constantly as the market value of the shares held in the investment portfolio of the funds changes.

The big talking point of the Mutual Funds in selling their stocks to the public is that the small investor is promised professional management in the selection and supervision of investments.

AND THESE investments are widely spread over the securities of many companies. By law the mutual fund is limited to investing no more than five per cent of its assets in any one corporation.

Those who haven't been entirely sold on mutual funds usually stress worry over what the funds would do if there were a bad, sustained market break. (The funds usually reply that they didn't do too badly in the 1930s.)

The funds have grown strikingly since the war. When the Federal Investment Co. Act went into effect in 1940, placing the funds under regulation, there were 900,000 investors holding shares representing one billion dollars worth of assets.

THIS SUMMER there are more than two million shareholder accounts in the 146 investment companies who are members of the National Assn. of Investment Companies. The assets of the mutual fund members total more than six billion dollars.

Among the types of mutual funds are: Funds that invest only in selected bonds; "balanced funds" that invest in bonds, common stock and preferred stock; funds that invest in common stocks; "growth funds" whose investment interest is chiefly in stocks the managers think will grow at a faster rate than will business as a whole; specialty funds concentrating on stocks in some single industry, such as chemicals, railroads, aviation, or atomic energy.

AT THE MEETING today the mutual fund salesmen are being told that there's a big new field of potential shareholders. Since 1950 the number of families with incomes after taxes of $4,000 or more has jumped from 12 million to 21½ million. And the amount of money they have to spend as they like after buying the bare necessities of life has increased five times.

Most of these families don't own stocks—only 1/3 of those with incomes over $10,000 do.

As to which way the stock market may go, the salesmen are hearing varying guesses. Some dealers contend that prices of most stocks have just been catching up with the strong up-trend in the intrinsic values these stocks represent. Others stress the opportunities now for funds to switch over to some less spectacular but sound dividend-paying stocks.

And some dealers warn that while there's nothing disturbing in sight, common sense dictates putting more emphasis on investment for income and less on hopes of continued spectacular price advances.

HEALTH FOR ALL

A DIET OF NETTLES

"Cures" for tuberculosis have been reported for centuries. Anything from large doses of alcoholic beverages to horseback riding has been recommended. And, oddly enough, in spite of the most drastic types of treatment, patients have recovered.

What the human frame, even weakened by tuberculosis, has been able to rise above is constantly amazing. Even more amazing, perhaps, is the persistence with which people have sought a "sure cure" for tuberculosis. A tremendous amount of research — both genuinely scientific and strictly amateur—has gone into this problem. And still it is unsolved.

Recently a farmer in Germany offered a new possibility for a TB cure. One of his pigs had what seemed to be TB. He fed her cooked nettles (the plant urtica). After three or four months of this diet the pig's cough disappeared. The farmer has offered his discovery to science for the benefit of humanity.

It may not be as funny as it sounds. In recent years, science has stopped laughing at the ancient remedies of herb doctors. Some have been found to be of real value. No doubt, the farmer's nettles, too, will be scientifically tested to find out whether they have any real effect on tuberculosis.

In the last quarter of a century scientists have amassed quantities of knowledge about tuberculosis and the germ that causes it. They have tested for antituberculosis effect every drug that has been developed for any disease. A few have been found of great value in treatment because they suppress the germs so that the body is given a chance to heal itself. Research goes on for better drugs to treat TB—and may come from something as unlikely as the diet of nettles.

Maj.Gen.Saltzman To Address 27th Division Reunion

Albany — Maj. Gen. Charles E. Saltzman, United States Army (Reserve) and former Assistant Secretary of State under two administrations in Washington will be the main speaker at the annual re-union dinner of the 27th Division Association, Inc. here on Sept. 24. General Saltzman served as Assistant Chief of Staff, G-1 of the 27th Infantry Division from 1940 to 1942 and later as deputy chief of staff of Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army in the Italian campaign.

The annual get-to-gether of the veterans of the old 27th Infantry Division will take place Friday and Saturday Sept. 23-24 in Albany.

The 27th Infantry Division, now converted to armor, originally a New York State National Guard outfit, saw exceptional combat service in both World Wars. In the first conflict it served in France and Belgium where it earned undying fame for its assault and penetration of the Hindenburg line.

In World War 2 it served in the Pacific theatre, leaving the United States in March 1942, and after numerous island battles including Mak in Enewetok, Saipan and Okinawa, it landed in Japan with the vanguard of the army of occupation. It was de-activated Dec. 31, 1945. During its five years of service, men from every state in the union and all territories served in its ranks.

Investment Dealers Discuss Promoting Stock and Bond Sales

After Share Of Money in Circulation

New York, Sept. 12 (AP) — A thousand investments dealers from around the United States, Canada and Hawaii are in town today to chew over the problems of that postwar phenomenon of growth—the mutual funds.

At the seventh National Mutual Fund Sales Convention they are talking about:

1. How long can the bull market keep on going—and if prices turn down sharply, how will the investors, spoiled by years of always rising prices, react?

2. How can they compete for the investor's dollar with all the institutions for savings, many now offering him higher interest rates?

3. How make today's better-heeled-than-ever Americans invest part of their larger incomes in stocks and bonds instead of spending all their money on the many appliances, goods, services and forms of recreation clamoring for ever bigger shares of it.

THE MUTUAL FUNDS are open-end investments trusts. They sell shares to the public, and thus pool many small savings to buy stocks, bonds and other securities. The funds are obligated by law to buy back at any time the shares they have sold at prices determined by asset value. This price changes constantly as the market value of the shares held in the investment portfolio of the funds changes.

The big talking point of the Mutual Funds in selling their stocks to the public is that the small investor is promised professional management in the selection and supervision of investments.

HEALTH FOR ALL

A DIET OF NETTLES

"Cures" for tuberculosis have been reported for centuries. Anything from large doses of alcoholic beverages to horseback riding has been recommended. And, oddly enough, in spite of the most drastic types of treatment, patients have recovered.

What the human frame, even weakened by tuberculosis, has been able to rise above is constantly amazing. Even more amazing, perhaps, is the persistence with which people have sought a "sure cure" for tuberculosis. A tremendous amount of research — both genuinely scientific and strictly amateur—has gone into this problem. And still it is unsolved.

Recently a farmer in Germany offered a new possibility for a TB cure. One of his pigs had what seemed to be TB. He fed her cooked nettles (the plant urtica). After three or four months of this diet the pig's cough disappeared. The farmer has offered his discovery to science for the benefit of humanity.

It may not be as funny as it sounds. In recent years, science has stopped laughing at the ancient remedies of herb doctors. Some have been found to be of real value. No doubt, the farmer's nettles, too, will be scientifically tested to find out whether they have any real effect on tuberculosis.

In the last quarter of a century scientists have amassed quantities of knowledge about tuberculosis and the germ that causes it. They have tested for antituberculosis effect every drug that has been developed for any disease. A few have been found of great value in treatment because they suppress the germs so that the body is given a chance to heal itself. Research goes on for better drugs to treat TB—and may come from something as unlikely as the diet of nettles.

Maj.Gen.Saltzman To Address 27th Division Reunion

Albany — Maj. Gen. Charles E. Saltzman, United States Army (Reserve) and former Assistant Secretary of State under two administrations in Washington will be the main speaker at the annual re-union dinner of the 27th Division Association, Inc. here on Sept. 24. General Saltzman served as Assistant Chief of Staff, G-1 of the 27th Infantry Division from 1940 to 1942 and later as deputy chief of staff of Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army in the Italian campaign.

The annual get-to-gether of the veterans of the old 27th Infantry Division will take place Friday and Saturday Sept. 23-24 in Albany.

The 27th Infantry Division, now converted to armor, originally a New York State National Guard outfit, saw exceptional combat service in both World Wars. In the first conflict it served in France and Belgium where it earned undying fame for its assault and penetration of the Hindenburg line.

In World War 2 it served in the Pacific theatre, leaving the United States in March 1942, and after numerous island battles including Mak in Enewetok, Saipan and Okinawa, it landed in Japan with the vanguard of the army of occupation. It was de-activated Dec. 31, 1945. During its five years of service, men from every state in the union and all territories served in its ranks.

Multiple Weddings Become New Custom in So. Israel

Nahal Oz, Southern Israel, Sept. 12 (AP)—It is becoming a custom in many of the Israeli collective settlements to celebrate three or four weddings at the same time.

This seems in line with the community spirit, and it saves work hours and money for the settlement. The settlement, or Kibbuz, bears all the expenses of the wedding since its individual members have no personal funds except a little pocket money.

HERE IS THE WAY it went when four "kibbuz couples" were married a few days ago:

Six buses came from Tel Aviv with guests. Work in the fields, in the stables and in the poultry runs of the communal settlement—one of hundreds in Israel—finished early.

It was not possible to seat all the 500 guests in the communal dining room. Instead, tables and benches were put on the lawn, and all the tables covered with white cloths and decorated with flowers. There were large trays of cakes, sandwiches and bottles of beer and lemonade and some red wine.

GUESTS AS WELL as Kibbuz members were festively dressed. The mothers and grandmothers of the four couples wore their best blacks. The Kibbuz boys were wearing freshly ironed white shirts and long trousers of dark blue cotton—their Sabbath best. The bridegrooms wore grey trousers and the brides chic white dresses.

Before the ceremony started, some Kibbuz members performed old eastern-Jewish folk dances. Then a boy acting as master of ceremonies introduced the couples to the guests who then all sat down at food-laden tables.

THE BLACK-COATED Rabbi from Beersheba and his Shamash (assistant) now made their solemn entry. Four separate times the Rabbi recited the benediction, as one couple after the other stood under the chuppah, the bridal canopy. But it was not an ordinary chuppah supported by sticks. The baldachin was gripped by four boys. Two held it out straight with rifles and the other two with long scythes—the two most significant symbols of an Israel frontier settlement.

Think It Through

By EDWARD F. HUTTON

Look at the headlines in the press: "NAB 15 IN DOPE RAID" — "PAYROLL BANDIT KILLED IN DUEL WITH COPS" — "JUVENILE KIDS BEAT UP COP" — "A YOUNG GIRL RAPED IN PARK."

Headlines in one day — plenty in the past — with more and more to come! And, Government needs more dough to send to others in foreign lands!

Mr. Hutton

"TEACHER STABBED BY BOY" — "PLENTY OF BIG FIRES IN BIG CITIES." What's cooking?

City authorities — hands apparently not tied — but what to do? There are a lot of "guess" plans — nothing as yet concrete.

"TWO TEENAGERS BEAT A COP AND TAKE HIS GUN" — "A SLASHED WOMAN FOUND IN STREET."

The reader's column is full of suggestions regarding juvenile delinquency — some good, others kid-gloved stuff.

I haven't forgotten the story of a little thirteen year old boy. He was asked: "Bobby, if you had a wish, what would it be?" He replied: "I wish my mommy would be home when I come from school."

That's a heart-buster! "If only my mommy were home * * !"

Now what happens? He goes out to play — gets mixed up with bad kids. Does he want to be called a "sissy"? There, you've got it: Bobby is in trouble.

What's the answer? Only one. In all cities, there is AUTHORITY. USE IT. Kid gloves, powder puffs, soft words—apparently are not the answer. Somehow, somewhere, there is an answer, neighbor.

Plane Scouts Storm

Miami, Fla., Sept. 12 (AP)—A scout plane took off today for another look at an easterly wave that has developed near Puerto Rico in the tropical storm belt. The disturbance, an area of squalls and rain, was moving west northwest at about 15 miles an hour. The middle of the wave was northwest of San Juan, capital of Puerto Rico. Although easterly waves occasionally intensify into tropical storms, observation planes Sunday found no circular flow of air that characterizes a storm. But weathermen carefully watch every easterly wave as a precaution. Top winds in the disturbance were about 35 miles an hour. The planes reported considerable shower activity.

Too Strong, He Says

Moscow, Sept. 12 (AP)—The Germans have finally found a drink that's too strong for Russia's convivial Nikita Khrushchev. It's cherry brandy produced in Germany's Black Forest region. At Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's lavish luncheon for Soviet leaders Sunday, the Soviet Communist party secretary took a gulp of the stuff, known as Kirschwasser. A member of the German delegation said Khrushchev choked and spluttered, "This stuff is for oxen. I never in my life drank anything that burned my throat so much."

George Washington died at exactly 10:20 p. m., Dec. 14, 1799.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Every Sr. left Friday for a vacation trip to Niagara Falls and Clayton.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Fine Deception Sets South Two

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There shouldn't be much to the play of the hand shown today. South has several different ways to develop nine tricks, and almost no way of losing his contract. It wasn't easy to find a way to go down, but South managed to do it.

West opened a low club, and South won with the ace, deceiving nobody with this violent false-card. After some thought South led a low spade towards dummy.

West unhesitatingly played the jack of spades, and dummy won with the king. South's bidding indicated that he had only a doubleton spade, so West knew that his play could cost nothing. The idea was so persuade declarer that West had put up the jack of spades from a holding that included the queen also.

After some indecision, South returned a low diamond from the dummy and finessed the jack. West won with the queen of diamonds and switched to a low heart. East took the ace of hearts and returned a heart and once more South finessed a jack and lost to the queen.

West returned a heart, and South was obliged to win with the king. At this stage South had nine tricks available; three clubs, three diamonds, two spades and one heart. Since declarer had already lost three tricks, the best he could hope for was to make one overtrick.

Any sensible bridge player would take his nine tricks and pay no attention at all to the play for an extra trick. As it happened, however, the declarer was not in a sensible mood. He led a spade from his hand and finessed dummy's ten, losing to the queen. East then cashed the rest of the hearts, thus setting the contract two!

While you're sniffing at South's foolish line of play, don't forget to give West credit for a fine deceptive play. If West hadn't put up the jack of spades at the second trick, South couldn't have gone wrong on the hand.

Mary Higgins, Nationwide Insurance policyholder, writes Murray D. Lincoln, Nationwide president, about the companies' recent change of name. Mr. Lincoln's answer is printed below.

We'll always love you, Mary Higgins ...we've changed our name, not our heart

Dear Mary Higgins:

I have your nice letter, and I'm answering it through the newspaper because a number of other people have also written me, raising the same point you do about our recent name change.

You say:

"Charlie Hackett, our agent, tells me that Farm Bureau Insurance is changing its name to Nationwide Insurance. It's nice to know you're getting big and successful. But I do hope you won't forget about people like us who've stayed with you for years because we like your neighborly way of doing business."

I can understand your being concerned about losing the neighborly touch that has made Farm Bureau Insurance such a nice company to do business with.

You might look at it this way, Mary Higgins. Once upon a time you changed your name, too. That was the day you got married, remember?

But at heart you didn't change, did you? What happened was that you went into partnership with someone like yourself to build a fuller, richer life for both of you—and later on for your children.

Actually, Mary Higgins, that's just what our companies have done.

For 29 years now we've done business on the neighbor-to-neighbor basis of people helping each other. Over these years our companies have grown steadily—from a mere handful of Ohio farmers in 1926 to more than two million policyholders today in 13 states.

But during all this time there hasn't been any change in our original idea of people working together to help each other. There hasn't been any change in the personal kind of service that has made Farm Bureau different from other insurance companies.

And there won't be any change under our new name, Nationwide Insurance. You have my personal guarantee on that.

So why change our name? Well, a lot of people like our way of doing things. People in states all the way to the Pacific Coast. Especially policyholders who have moved away and want to keep their insurance with us.

Naturally, we welcome these people, because the more of us there are, the lower the cost of providing protection for us all.

But in some states outside our present 13-state operating area there are already "Farm Bureau" companies. So before we could take these people in those other states into partnership with us, we had to have a new name.

But don't you worry, Mary Higgins. We'll never disappoint you or people like you who have been with us from earlier days. Your policies will continue to guarantee you the same protection as before. Charlie Hackett will still be on hand to advise you on your insurance problems and help you if you have a claim.

The big difference is one you can be proud of. From now on you'll have a stake in a business which will be Nationwide in name, just as for years we've been nationwide in our claims service. And through your local Policyholder Advisory Committee you'll be able to have a say in the affairs of an organization that eventually will be nationwide in sales service.

Sincerely,
Murray D Lincoln
President, Nationwide Insurance

P.S. Perhaps you have friends and neighbors who would like to join our organization. Tell them about us. Then suggest they get in touch with Charlie Hackett or any Nationwide representative. They'll find a friendly welcome awaiting them!

Fine Deception Sets South Two

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

There shouldn't be much to the play of the hand shown today. South has several different ways to develop nine tricks, and almost no way of losing his contract. It wasn't easy to find a way to go down, but South managed to do it.

West opened a low club, and South won with the ace, deceiving nobody with this violent false-card. After some thought South led a low spade towards dummy.

West unhesitatingly played the jack of spades, and dummy won with the king. South's bidding indicated that he had only a doubleton spade, so West knew that his play could cost nothing. The idea was so persuade declarer that West had put up the jack of spades from a holding that included the queen also.

After some indecision, South returned a low diamond from the dummy and finessed the jack. West won with the queen of diamonds and switched to a low heart. East took the ace of hearts and returned a heart and once more South finessed a jack and lost to the queen.

Saugerties Chamber President Welcomes Harugari Convention

THOMAS W. REYNOLDS, JR.

Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce president, Thomas W. Reynolds made the opening address to the Harugari Grand Lodge convention on Friday morning at the Harugari Recreation Association main dining room at Mt. Marion.

Delegates of the New York State Grand Lodge, DOH numbering over 100 received the official welcome of Saugerties from Mr. Reynolds who said, "We are happy to have you as permanent neighbors."

REYNOLDS REVIEWED the fine work accomplished by the 108 year old organization and lauded the membership for the aims of the organization which would like to establish a recreation home for the aged and infirmed of their membership at the Mt. Marion site.

The lodge which was primarily founded to assist the German immigrant on his arrival in the new country had expanded in earlier years and offered sick and health benefits to its less fortunate members. However in recent years with modern insurance benefits and social security this function of the lodge is not such a vital necessity and the lodge is now primarily a social organization.

The Chamber president commented on this when he said that there is a great need for social activities because people have more spare time in this modern age and such an organization has a worthwhile program.

THE CONVENTION which runs during Friday and Saturday has membership from all the New England states and also including New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Utah, Colorado, Florida and California.

The Mt. Marion establishment was started as a recreation home for members in 1938 and has been in operation since that time.

Current officers are Julius Beresinsky, president; Steffanie Mayer, vice president; Marie Bernd, treasurer and Dorothea Scharer, secretary. Mrs. Scharer was in charge of convention arrangements and issued the invitation to Mr. Reynolds to address the session.

Beverly M. Russell Marries John Acker Sept. 3 in Kingston

Miss Beverly Mae Russell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Russell of Guyton street, became the bride of John James Acker, son of Mrs. John Acker of East Kingston, and the late Mr. Acker, Sept. 3, at the Fair Street Reformed Church. The double ring ceremony was performed before an altar decked with white gladioli and candles, by the Rev. Dean Dykstra, pastor.

Mrs. William Elting, church organist, accompanied Miss Mary Anne Polhemus who sang the wedding selections.

The bride's father escorted her to the altar to be given in marriage. She wore a gown of lace and nylon tulle designed with a high collar and long pointed sleeves and a full skirt with insets of lace. Her fingertip veil was edged in lace and attached to a headpiece of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and white stephanotis.

Miss Joan Russell was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a gown of cotillion blue nylon tulle with shirred bodice with a cape effect, and a bouffant, full length skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and pompons.

The bridegroom's sisters, the Misses Betty Ann and Jean Acker were bridesmaids. Betty Ann wore a gown of pink and Jean wore a gown of yellow, both styled like that of the honor attendant. Each carried a colonial bouquet of bronze pompons and roses tied with bronze ribbon.

The bride's niece, Lana Russell of Smithville, was the flower girl. She wore a frock of white nylon fashioned with a sleeveless bodice and scalloped collar and she carried pink and white pompons and tea roses with pink ribbon.

George Acker was his brother's best man. Donald Russell, the bridegroom's brother, of Smithville, was usher, as was the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Fred Yaple of Kingston. The ringbearer was the nephew of the bridegroom, Jerry Yaple.

A reception for 100 at the Alpine Hotel followed the ceremony.

For the wedding trip to upstate New York and the Thousand Islands, the bride chose a traveling ensemble of dusty pink with matching bolero jacket and white accessories. She wore a white orchid.

Mrs. Acker graduated Kingston High School and is employed by IBM in Poughkeepsie. Her husband attended Kingston schools and is now employed by the Lansdell Co. He served with the air force.

The couple will make their home at 24 Joys Lane.

Her sister Eleanor was maid of honor and wore a gown of emerald green crystalette designed with a long torso and boat neckline which had a wide collar with back effect shirred to a bow bustle. She wore a crown of tiny yellow flowers and carried fuji mums.

CORRECTING A FRIEND'S MISTAKES

"I have a girl friend who constantly uses words incorrectly. I know for a fact that people are beginning to laugh behind her back, and it really distresses me as she is a very nice person and I don't like to see her hurt. Should I remain silent and let her go on speaking incorrectly, or should I try to help by correcting her? Will you please tell me how to handle this situation tactfully?"

The word tactful is the crux of the situation. You will have to go about it very carefully. If you are real friends and she is certain of your interest in her, just ask her: "Would you like to have me correct you when you carelessly make a mistake in the use of words?" If she doesn't agree there is nothing more you can do.

Costume of Safety

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's employer has invited the whole office force out to his country house for a barbecue next week. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to wear a good-looking pair of pedal pushers and a blouse to match at this party, or must I wear a dress. I would appreciate hearing from you as I don't want to be unsuitably dressed.

Answer: Wear a dress by all means. The dress cannot possibly be wrong; the pedal pushers can.

Formal and Informal

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever proper for a woman to wear a formal evening dress if the man with whom she is dining has no dinner coat and has to wear a business suit?

Answer: This is a very moot question of the present day when any number of well-born men wearing day clothes are accompanying women in barest evening clothes. According to longest established etiquette, a gentlemen accompanying a lady in evening dress must wear at least a tuxedo but not necessarily tails.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-35, "The Well-Dressed Woman," describes clothes for "semi-formal" parties and other occasions. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Saugerties Chamber President Welcomes Harugari Convention

THOMAS W. REYNOLDS, JR.

Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce president, Thomas W. Reynolds made the opening address to the Harugari Grand Lodge convention on Friday morning at the Harugari Recreation Association main dining room at Mt. Marion.

Delegates of the New York State Grand Lodge, DOH numbering over 100 received the official welcome of Saugerties from Mr. Reynolds who said, "We are happy to have you as permanent neighbors."

REYNOLDS REVIEWED the fine work accomplished by the 108 year old organization and lauded the membership for the aims of the organization which would like to establish a recreation home for the aged and infirmed of their membership at the Mt. Marion site.

The lodge which was primarily founded to assist the German immigrant on his arrival in the new country had expanded in earlier years and offered sick and health benefits to its less fortunate members. However in recent years with modern insurance benefits and social security this function of the lodge is not such a vital necessity and the lodge is now primarily a social organization.

The Chamber president commented on this when he said that there is a great need for social activities because people have more spare time in this modern age and such an organization has a worthwhile program.

THE CONVENTION which runs during Friday and Saturday has membership from all the New England states and also including New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Utah, Colorado, Florida and California.

The Mt. Marion establishment was started as a recreation home for members in 1938 and has been in operation since that time.

Current officers are Julius Beresinsky, president; Steffanie Mayer, vice president; Marie Bernd, treasurer and Dorothea Scharer, secretary. Mrs. Scharer was in charge of convention arrangements and issued the invitation to Mr. Reynolds to address the session.

CORRECTING A FRIEND'S MISTAKES

"I have a girl friend who constantly uses words incorrectly. I know for a fact that people are beginning to laugh behind her back, and it really distresses me as she is a very nice person, and I don't like to see her hurt. Should I remain silent and let her go on speaking incorrectly, or should I try to help by correcting her? Will you please tell me how to handle this situation tactfully?"

The word tactful is the crux of the situation. You will have to go about it very carefully. If you are real friends and she is certain of your interest in her, just ask her: "Would you like to have me correct you when you carelessly make a mistake in the use of words?" If she doesn't agree there is nothing more you can do.

Costume of Safety

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband's employer has invited the whole office force out to his country house for a barbecue next week. I would like to know if it would be proper for me to wear a good-looking pair of pedal pushers and a blouse to match at this party, or must I wear a dress. I would appreciate hearing from you as I don't want to be unsuitably dressed.

Answer: Wear a dress by all means. The dress cannot possibly be wrong; the pedal pushers can.

Formal and Informal

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it ever proper for a woman to wear a formal evening dress if the man with whom she is dining has no dinner coat and has to wear a business suit?

Answer: This is a very moot question of the present day when any number of well-born men wearing day clothes are accompanying women in barest evening clothes. According to longest established etiquette, a gentlemen accompanying a lady in evening dress must wear at least a tuxedo but not necessarily tails.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-35, "The Well-Dressed Woman," describes clothes for "semi-formal" parties and other occasions. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

CP Center 'Graduate' Leaves for College; '51 He Couldn't Use a Bike; Now He Drives

GEORGE CLARK, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Clark of Port Ewen leaves today to begin his studies of electrical engineering at Long Island Technical Institute in Farmindale. George has a Kiwanis scholarship and at KHS he belonged to French and National Honor societies.

As he drives a car to the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Center to say goodbye to Mrs. Charlotte Peck, director, and her staff, George recalls that four years ago, before receiving treatment at the Center, he was unable to ride a bicycle or swing a baseball bat.

George's graduation from high school at 16 last June, climaxed many years of hard work, separation from his family, and special training. His mother, who was instrumental in the origin of the Ulster County Cerebral Palsy Association, looks back on the long years of attending clinics, seeking diagnosis, and the years from age five to nine, that George spent receiving special therapy at Ithaca.

Mrs. Clark said, "It hasn't been easy but with help George has conquered his problems and achieved self-reliance. I only hope his example can serve as an incentive to all handicapped children and give a ray of hope to their parents."

The CP Center announces resumption of its regular fall schedule. The new hearing conservation room constructed through the efforts of the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, is nearing completion and is open to the public.

Baltimore, Sept. 12—H. L. Mencken, the celebrated newspaperman and writer, observes his 75th birthday today. And at this time of year, he's usually feeling a bit under the weather because of an old enemy, hay fever. Then, too, his activities have been limited since a stroke reduced his power of speech and dimmed his vision seven years ago.

Chicago, Sept. 12 (AP)—An atomic scientist-editor said today that because of large stockpiles in three nations it is no longer technically possible to guarantee the abolition of atomic and thermonuclear weapons. Dr. Eugene Rabinowitch, editor of the Bulletin of the atomic scientists, said President Eisenhower's Geneva proposal for unrestricted mutual aerial surveys of the United States and Russia apparently is aimed at preventing or detecting any large-scale preparations for attack.

Jones Dairy Beats Panthers, 4-2, in City League Playoff Opener

Bechtold Stops Foe On 5 Hits

Shelightner Slams Triple, 2 Singles

Jones Dairy players grabbed an early lead and hung onto it grimly for the remainder of the game to edge the New York Panthers 4-2 in the opener of the City Baseball League playoffs yesterday at the Athletic Field.

The second and, if necessary, the third game of the best-of-three series will be played Sunday.

An error in the third inning gave the Dairy team three unearned runs after a single score in the second. And although Bob Maines held the Dairymen scoreless thereafter, the Panthers couldn't catch up against winning pitcher Bruce Bechtold.

BOTH HURLERS went the distance. Bechtold wound up with a neat five-hitter, striking out three and walking the same number. Maines was nicked for a half dozen hits and as many passes. He fanned five.

Bob Shelightner was the batting star for the winners, collecting half his team's hits. The big backstop also drove in half the Jones Dairy runs.

Shelightner got the first run himself. With one away in the second, he belted a long drive over the left fielder's head. He reached third easily and came home when the relay was mishandled. Shelightner was credited with a three-base hit.

SINGLES BY Bechtold and Ronnie Ashdown opened the J-D third. Player-manager John "Daisy" Schatzel laid down a bunt and when Maines was tardy with the throw to third, the bases were loaded.

The Panthers lefthander set down Red Gorsline and Tommy Carlino on strikes. It looked as if the Panthers would escape unscathed when Nippy Jones rapped a grounder to second. But Eddie VanLoan's throw sailed wide of first and Bechtold and Ashdown scored. Shelightner followed with a single off Maines' glove and Schatzel tallied.

Steve Cea broke the Panthers' run famine in the fourth, leading off with a home run to left center.

The Panthers made a strong bid to tie the game in the sixth, but had their rally squelched after getting one run across.

Don Ferraro got on via an error and Cea singled. Ferraro took third and Cea was forced at second on VanLoan's grounder to shortstop.

JOHNNY GODWIN delivered the run with a single. Frank Secreto was safe on Tom Carlino's error, loading the bases. But Bechtold got out of the jam when Paul Giannuzzi's roller forced VanLoan at the plate and Schatzel snagged Haber's foul for the third out.

Jones Dairy loaded the bases with one away in the bottom of the sixth. Maines, however, set Jones down on strikes for the third time. Shelightner went out in the same fashion.

A home plate had to be recruited. Someone made off with the usual one after Saturday's Fraternal Youth League contests . . . the hat-passing at the game netted $7.21.

Bob Short performed the no-hit feat in the Fraternal Youth Leaue yesterday as he pitched the Volunteer Firemen into first place with a 4-0 victory over the Kiwanis Club.

Short's performance was nearly perfect. He faced only 23 batters. The righthander struck out 15.

The win gave the Vols a 9-1 record. They have two games remaining, both with the weaker clubs of the league. Victories in both will give them the pennant a full game ahead of the Kiwanians, who have finished the campaign with a 10-2 mark.

The Kiwanis players won twice over the weekend, beating the Kingston Patrolmen's Association and the Rotary Club. The latter game, which the Kiwanians won by 6-5 was a suspended contest of Aug. 31.

In other games, the American Legion and Elks Club each beat the Rotary. Scores and box scores of the games were not made available.

Short walked losing pitcher Frank Sammons in the first inning. Another player got on via an error. Otherwise it was a mound masterpiece.

Short struck out the side in the third and fifth innings.

Sammons also turned in a good game, allowing only four hits. All the safeties figured in the scoring, however. Sammons fanned seven and walked six.

In the first inning, Don Krueger and Dick Wenzel walked. Paul Celuch clubbed a single, scoring Krueger. Frank Janeczek doubled for two more tallies.

In the third, Short singled and came around when Jim Cullum singled following a walk to Charley Boice.

Two Eagles Give Cary Middlecoff Cavalcade Win

Scotch Plains, N. J., Sept. 12 (AP)—A pair of eagles, one at the start and the other at the end of the final round, plus a double bogey on a par 3 hole by his closest pursuer gave Cary Middlecoff a victory and $10,000 in the Calvacade of Golf tournament.

The Memphis dentist, playing out of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., holed out an 80-foot wedge shot on the 490-yard first hole for an eagle 3 yesterday at the Shackamaxon club. Then on the 601-yard 18th he repeated the performance, this time using a No. 9 iron to drop a 45-foot approach shot.

The two amazing chip shots gave Middlecoff a 5-under-par 65 for the final round and a 72-hole score of 276—two strokes better than Sam Snead, the blaster from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

SNEAD, who went into the final round tied for the lead with Freddie Haas of Claremont, Calif., and Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., lost his chance to tie Middlecoff when he took a double bogey on the par 3 16th after his tee shot hit a tree. Snead closed out his four rounds with 278 and second place prize money of $5,000 from the total pot of $50,000.

Littler tied Gardner Dickinson, Jr., of Panama Beach, Fla., and little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles for third. Each had 280. Haas was one stroke back, tied with long-hitting George Bayer of Cincinnati.

Who's Choking in Clutch, Now?

Yankees Finding It Tougher To Win Those Clutch Contests

BY ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

Time was when the Cleveland Indians took the rap for choking up in the pennant drive. But no more. Now it's the New York Yankees, the club with a reputation for winning the big ones, who find it tough to stay loose.

The Indians, winning 11 of their last 14, were held to just four hits by southpaw Tommy Byrne in a 6-1 first game defeat at New York yesterday, but they bounced back to come from behind and win 3-2 in the pivotal nightcap.

A LOSS OF the twinbill would have dropped the Indians from first place in the American League race. Instead, they can sit back and rest while the AL takes a day off today, holding a 1½-game lead with 11 to play. Second-place New York has 12.

Bobby Avila and reliefer Don Mossi kept the Tribe alive in the second game. But in the end, it was a wild pitch by Whitey Ford, New York's ace, that let the clinching run score.

It was the second game in two days the Yanks let slip away. Saturday, they blew a 6-1 lead and lost to Chicago 9-8 in 10 innings.

The victory gave Cleveland the season series with the Yanks 13-9. It's the first time since 1945 the Tribe has whipped New York over the year, although they split even in the 22 games while snapping the Yanks' five-year pennant reign last season.

The doubleheader split also left Cleveland 3½ games up on third place Chicago, which divided a pair at Boston. The White Sox won the second 7-2. Boston, six games back, took the opener 6-2.

AVILA HAD four hits in the doubleheader and walloped his second homer of the day to tie it at 2-all in the eighth-inning of the nightcap. Until then, Ford, 17-7, had a three-hitter.

Hoot Evers followed with a double, advanced on a walk and forceout, then scored as Ford bounced a pitch in front of the plate.

Mossi, in relief of rookie Herb Score, scattered three hits over the last three frames for a 4-3 record. Evers pulled him out of his only possible jam, making a diving catch of Elston Howard's liner for the final out with the potential tying run on base.

Score, giving four hits and both Yank runs, struck out six before giving way to a pinch hitter in the seventh. That upped his strikeout total to 226—one short of the rookie mark set by Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1911.

BYRNE WON his 15th in the opener, fanning five and walking only two. Yogi Berra knocked in three runs and Joe Collins swatted an inside-the-park homer off loser Early Wynn.

The White Sox hung on as Connie Johnson and Millard (Dixie) Howell, although rapped for 11 hits, tightened in the clutch and left 15 Bosox stranded. Frank Sullivan won his 18th in the first game with a five-hitter while Norm Zauchin drove in three runs as Boston racked up Bob Keegan.

Detroit split at Washington in a pair of four-hitters. Billy Hoeft won his 16th in the first game 8-0 and Nat rookie Ted Abernathy picked up the nightcap 1-0.

Kansas City and Baltimore also split a pair. The A's won 4-3, then lost 4-2.

IN THE NATIONAL, Cincinnati's Johnny Klippstein one-hit Brooklyn's champs. Peewee Reese blooped a single with one out in the ninth for the spoiler as the Redlegs won the first game of a twinbill 9-0, then made it a sweep with a 5-3 decision. Ted Kluszewski hammered his 45th homer in the opener.

Milwaukee padded its runnerup spot, beating Philadelphia twice 5-4 and 9-1.

Chicago's Ernie Banks and New York's Willie Mays each hit home run No. 43 while the Cubs beat the Giants 7-5 on Banks' two-run double in the eighth. In another single game, St. Louis edged Pittsburgh 6-5 on a single by Alex Grammas in the eighth.

Batting—Bobby Avila, Indians, had 4-for-5 in twinbill, getting two of Tribe's four hits in opener and homering in both games; his first scored lone run in 6-1 defeat, his second tied it at 2-2 in 3-2 nightcap victory.

The Lure of Lucre Tempts Tony

Trabert Waiting Pro Offers After Crushing Ken Rosewall

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP)—Tony Trabert took his seat in the throne room of amateur tennis today, and no sooner did he get his crown adjusted than he began thinking of giving it all up.

"I'm waiting to hear professional offers," said the new king. "But right now I can say truthfully I haven't had any. I think the promoters were waiting to see how I did in the national championship before they decided whether I'd be worth it."

Trabert, a crew-cut, power-hitting Cincinnatian, won the title for the second time in three years yesterday, beating Australia's Ken Rosewall decisively in the final 9-7, 6-3, 6-3. Just like Wimbledon, Trabert went through the entire tournament without losing a set.

TRABERT is committed to the Pacific Southwest championships in Los Angeles next week, so it wouldn't be prudent for him to announce publicly he's turning pro at least until then.

As for the match with Rosewall, it wasn't much of a contest. Ken looked like a babe in the woods.

"I tried to keep the ball to Ken's forehand," said Trabert, who didn't lose a set in 1953 when he won the crown that year. "I had to try for some variety, too, to keep him guessing."

"I was real sharp because I had plenty of competition. Now that I look back on it, I realize that my month layoff before the Davis Cup hurt me more than I thought."

TRABERT'S cannonball service threw back Rosewall time and again. Tony followed it in for fast kills and had the usually composed Rosewall rushing his shots. Only in the first set, which was deuced, was Trabert in anything that resembled trouble. Faulty volleying cost him two service breaks.

The second set never was in doubt after Trabert broke through in the first game. Then, when Tony swept through the first three games of the third set with the loss of only two points, the handwriting on the wall became quite plain. It wasn't Rosewall's day.

Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., defended her women's title successfully when she whipped England's Pat Ward in the final 6-4, 6-2. Miss Ward was the first foreign girl in the final since Anita Lizana of Chile won it in 1934. Miss Hart indicated this might be her last year of serious competition.

Jones Dairy Beats Panthers, 4-2, in City League Playoff Opener

Bechtold Stops Foe On 5 Hits

Shelightner Slams Triple, 2 Singles

Jones Dairy players grabbed an early lead and hung onto it grimly for the remainder of the game to edge the New York Panthers 4-2 in the opener of the City Baseball League playoffs yesterday at the Athletic Field.

The second and, if necessary, the third game of the best-of-three series will be played Sunday.

An error in the third inning gave the Dairy team three unearned runs after a single score in the second. And although Bob Maines held the Dairymen scoreless thereafter, the Panthers couldn't catch up against winning pitcher Bruce Bechtold.

BOTH HURLERS went the distance. Bechtold wound up with a neat five-hitter, striking out three and walking the same number. Maines was nicked for a half dozen hits and as many passes. He fanned five.

Bob Shelightner was the batting star for the winners, collecting half his team's hits. The big backstop also drove in half the Jones Dairy runs.

Shelightner got the first run himself. With one away in the second, he belted a long drive over the left fielder's head. He reached third easily and came home when the relay was mishandled. Shelightner was credited with a three-base hit.

SINGLES BY Bechtold and Ronnie Ashdown opened the J-D third. Player-manager John "Daisy" Schatzel laid down a bunt and when Maines was tardy with the throw to third, the bases were loaded.

The Panthers lefthander set down Red Gorsline and Tommy Carlino on strikes. It looked as if the Panthers would escape unscathed when Nippy Jones rapped a grounder to second. But Eddie VanLoan's throw sailed wide of first and Bechtold and Ashdown scored. Shelightner followed with a single off Maines' glove and Schatzel tallied.

Steve Cea broke the Panthers' run famine in the fourth, leading off with a home run to left center.

The Panthers made a strong bid to tie the game in the sixth, but had their rally squelched after getting one run across.

Don Ferraro got on via an error and Cea singled. Ferraro took third and Cea was forced at second on VanLoan's grounder to shortstop.

JOHNNY GODWIN delivered the run with a single. Frank Secreto was safe on Tom Carlino's error, loading the bases. But Bechtold got out of the jam when Paul Giannuzzi's roller forced VanLoan at the plate and Schatzel snagged Haber's foul for the third out.

Jones Dairy loaded the bases with one away in the bottom of the sixth. Maines, however, set Jones down on strikes for the third time. Shelightner went out in the same fashion.

A home plate had to be recruited. Someone made off with the usual one after Saturday's Fraternal Youth League contests . . . the hat-passing at the game netted $7.21.

Bob Short performed the no-hit feat in the Fraternal Youth Leaue yesterday as he pitched the Volunteer Firemen into first place with a 4-0 victory over the Kiwanis Club.

Short's performance was nearly perfect. He faced only 23 batters. The righthander struck out 15.

The win gave the Vols a 9-1 record. They have two games remaining, both with the weaker clubs of the league. Victories in both will give them the pennant a full game ahead of the Kiwanians, who have finished the campaign with a 10-2 mark.

The Kiwanis players won twice over the weekend, beating the Kingston Patrolmen's Association and the Rotary Club. The latter game, which the Kiwanians won by 6-5 was a suspended contest of Aug. 31.

In other games, the American Legion and Elks Club each beat the Rotary. Scores and box scores of the games were not made available.

Short walked losing pitcher Frank Sammons in the first inning. Another player got on via an error. Otherwise it was a mound masterpiece.

Short struck out the side in the third and fifth innings.

Sammons also turned in a good game, allowing only four hits. All the safeties figured in the scoring, however. Sammons fanned seven and walked six.

In the first inning, Don Krueger and Dick Wenzel walked. Paul Celuch clubbed a single, scoring Krueger. Frank Janeczek doubled for two more tallies.

In the third, Short singled and came around when Jim Cullum singled following a walk to Charley Boice.

Who's Choking in Clutch, Now?

Yankees Finding It Tougher To Win Those Clutch Contests

BY ED WILKS
Of The Associated Press

Time was when the Cleveland Indians took the rap for choking up in the pennant drive. But no more. Now it's the New York Yankees, the club with a reputation for winning the big ones, who find it tough to stay loose.

The Indians, winning 11 of their last 14, were held to just four hits by southpaw Tommy Byrne in a 6-1 first game defeat at New York yesterday, but they bounced back to come from behind and win 3-2 in the pivotal nightcap.

A LOSS OF the twinbill would have dropped the Indians from first place in the American League race. Instead, they can sit back and rest while the AL takes a day off today, holding a 1½-game lead with 11 to play. Second-place New York has 12.

Bobby Avila and reliefer Don Mossi kept the Tribe alive in the second game. But in the end, it was a wild pitch by Whitey Ford, New York's ace, that let the clinching run score.

It was the second game in two days the Yanks let slip away. Saturday, they blew a 6-1 lead and lost to Chicago 9-8 in 10 innings.

The victory gave Cleveland the season series with the Yanks 13-9. It's the first time since 1945 the Tribe has whipped New York over the year, although they split even in the 22 games while snapping the Yanks' five-year pennant reign last season.

The doubleheader split also left Cleveland 3½ games up on third place Chicago, which divided a pair at Boston. The White Sox won the second 7-2. Boston, six games back, took the opener 6-2.

AVILA HAD four hits in the doubleheader and walloped his second homer of the day to tie it at 2-all in the eighth-inning of the nightcap. Until then, Ford, 17-7, had a three-hitter.

Hoot Evers followed with a double, advanced on a walk and forceout, then scored as Ford bounced a pitch in front of the plate.

Mossi, in relief of rookie Herb Score, scattered three hits over the last three frames for a 4-3 record. Evers pulled him out of his only possible jam, making a diving catch of Elston Howard's liner for the final out with the potential tying run on base.

Score, giving four hits and both Yank runs, struck out six before giving way to a pinch hitter in the seventh. That upped his strikeout total to 226—one short of the rookie mark set by Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1911.

BYRNE WON his 15th in the opener, fanning five and walking only two. Yogi Berra knocked in three runs and Joe Collins swatted an inside-the-park homer off loser Early Wynn.

The White Sox hung on as Connie Johnson and Millard (Dixie) Howell, although rapped for 11 hits, tightened in the clutch and left 15 Bosox stranded. Frank Sullivan won his 18th in the first game with a five-hitter while Norm Zauchin drove in three runs as Boston racked up Bob Keegan.

Detroit split at Washington in a pair of four-hitters. Billy Hoeft won his 16th in the first game 8-0 and Nat rookie Ted Abernathy picked up the nightcap 1-0.

Kansas City and Baltimore also split a pair. The A's won 4-3, then lost 4-2.

IN THE NATIONAL, Cincinnati's Johnny Klippstein one-hit Brooklyn's champs. Peewee Reese blooped a single with one out in the ninth for the spoiler as the Redlegs won the first game of a twinbill 9-0, then made it a sweep with a 5-3 decision. Ted Kluszewski hammered his 45th homer in the opener.

Milwaukee padded its runnerup spot, beating Philadelphia twice 5-4 and 9-1.

Chicago's Ernie Banks and New York's Willie Mays each hit home run No. 43 while the Cubs beat the Giants 7-5 on Banks' two-run double in the eighth. In another single game, St. Louis edged Pittsburgh 6-5 on a single by Alex Grammas in the eighth.

Yesterday's Stars

(By The Associated Press)

Pitching—Tommy Byrne, Yankees, and Johnny Klippstein, Redlegs; Byrne, 35-year-old lefty, four-hit the Indians, striking out five and walking two in 6-1 first game victory that gave Yanks a doubleheader split; Klippstein no-hit National League champion Dodgers for 8 1/3 innings before Peewee Reese singled for the Dodgers' only hit, in first game as Cincinnati swept two 9-0 and 5-3.

Batting—Bobby Avila, Indians, had 4-for-5 in twinbill, getting two of Tribe's four hits in opener and homering in both games; his first scored lone run in 6-1 defeat, his second tied it at 2-2 in 3-2 nightcap victory.

Two Eagles Give Cary Middlecoff Cavalcade Win

Scotch Plains, N. J., Sept. 12 (AP)—A pair of eagles, one at the start and the other at the end of the final round, plus a double bogey on a par 3 hole by his closest pursuer gave Cary Middlecoff a victory and $10,000 in the Calvacade of Golf tournament.

The Memphis dentist, playing out of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., holed out an 80-foot wedge shot on the 490-yard first hole for an eagle 3 yesterday at the Shackamaxon club. Then on the 601-yard 18th he repeated the performance, this time using a No. 9 iron to drop a 45-foot approach shot.

The two amazing chip shots gave Middlecoff a 5-under-par 65 for the final round and a 72-hole score of 276—two strokes better than Sam Snead, the blaster from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

SNEAD, who went into the final round tied for the lead with Freddie Haas of Claremont, Calif., and Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., lost his chance to tie Middlecoff when he took a double bogey on the par 3 16th after his tee shot hit a tree. Snead closed out his four rounds with 278 and second place prize money of $5,000 from the total pot of $50,000.

Littler tied Gardner Dickinson, Jr., of Panama Beach, Fla., and little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles for third. Each had 280. Haas was one stroke back, tied with long-hitting George Bayer of Cincinnati.

Trabert Waiting Pro Offers After Crushing Ken Rosewall

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 12 (AP)—Tony Trabert took his seat in the throne room of amateur tennis today, and no sooner did he get his crown adjusted than he began thinking of giving it all up.

"I'm waiting to hear professional offers," said the new king. "But right now I can say truthfully I haven't had any. I think the promoters were waiting to see how I did in the national championship before they decided whether I'd be worth it."

Trabert, a crew-cut, powerhitting Cincinnatian, won the title for the second time in three years yesterday, beating Australia's Ken Rosewall decisively in the final 9-7, 6-3, 6-3. Just like Wimbledon, Trabert went through the entire tournament without losing a set.

TRABERT is committed to the Pacific Southwest championships in Los Angeles next week, so it wouldn't be prudent for him to announce publicly he's turning pro at least until then.

As for the match with Rosewall, it wasn't much of a contest. Ken looked like a babe in the woods.

"I tried to keep the ball to Ken's forehand," said Trabert, who didn't lose a set in 1953 when he won the crown that year. "I had to try for some variety, too, to keep him guessing."

"I was real sharp because I had plenty of competition. Now that I look back on it, I realize that my month layoff before the Davis Cup hurt me more than I thought."

TRABERT'S cannonball service threw back Rosewall time and again. Tony followed it in for fast kills and had the usually composed Rosewall rushing his shots. Only in the first set, which was deuced, was Trabert in anything that resembled trouble. Faulty volleying cost him two service breaks.

The second set never was in doubt after Trabert broke through in the first game. Then, when Tony swept through the first three games of the third set with the loss of only two points, the handwriting on the wall became quite plain. It wasn't Rosewall's day.

Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., defended her women's title successfully when she whipped England's Pat Ward in the final 6-4, 6-2. Miss Ward was the first foreign girl in the final since Anita Lizana of Chile won it in 1934. Miss Hart indicated this might be her last year of serious competition.

H. F. King Captures Third Annual Class A Seniors Golf Title

Beats Defending Champ on Final Green With 63

Maurice Davenport Posts Low Gross 71

The president of the Ulster County Seniors Golf Association won the Class A title in the third annual tournament he conducted so successfully Sunday at the Twalfskill club.

Harold F. King, who also served as tournament chairman, posted a 13-hole score of 63 to edge defending champion, Harry Hohnhorst of Woodstock, by one stroke.

Play for the Class A group (70 years and over) was limited to 13 holes. The issue was decided on the 13th green where Hohnhorst missed a three-foot putt and a chance to tie. King's 9-hole score of 44 gave him a one-stroke edge over Hohnhorst and he held it doggedly over the last four holes.

RODNEY OSTERHOUDT, the only remaining charter member of Twaalfskill, captured the Class A net crown with a 48. Osterhoudt and Frank W. Thompson fired 67 grosses. Bruff Olin, of Woodstock, and Wilson C. Ingalls fired 69s.

Bernard "Doc" Forst won the Class B title with a 96. Ed Tongue's 85 net gave him the net prize in the two-man division.

James A. Dwyer, the banker, put together nines of 40 and 38 to win the Class C title with a 78. Low net honors went to Floyd W. Flint of Twaalfskill. The defending champion, Walter Seaton of Woodstock, shot an 83.

ROY VOGT of Wiltwyck, a consistent winner in the three-year history of the tournament, took Class D gross with a 76 on nines of 42 and 34, the lowest of the day. Dr. Joseph Jacobson of Twaalfskill posted low net of 70.

Maurice Davenport of Wiltwyck ran away from the "junior division", the Class E field (50 to 54), with a sparkling 71 on nines of 36 and 35. Runners-up Herman Roosa of Wiltwyck and Fred Allen of Woodstock tied with 79s. Roosa's net 67 earned him the low net trophy.

DAVENPORT also got his name on the Jay Rifenbary memorial plaque with his 71 gross, while King's victory in the Class A division earned him a shingle on the DeLisio memorial.

Prizes were awarded at a buffet luncheon for 40 players and guests.

Toronto Nears Playoff Finals

(By The Associated Press)

The Toronto Maple Leafs were just one victory away from the finals of the International League playoffs today after beating the Cuban Sugar Kings for the third time in four games.

The Leafs won the fourth of the playoff games in Havana yesterday when Mike Goliat homered in the 10th inning for a 2-1 triumph. The Montreal-Rochester series, in which the Red Wings lead 2-1, was rained out at Rochester.

Goliat, who had failed to hit three times, slammed Pat Scantlebury's first pitch over the leftfield wall to decide the issue. Pete Castiglione's double and Lou Morton's single provided the Leafs' first run in the first frame. But the Cubans tied it up in the second on three successive walks off starter John Ktkit and Angel Scullí's sacrifice fly. That's the way it remained until Goliat hit his homer.

FOR THE BIRDS—Attracting a flock of lovebirds is attractive Marlene Foshay, who entered the queen contest of the Los Angeles County Fair at Pomona. The month-old lovebirds are also fair-conscious, having joined the tropical bird exhibit at the event.

The porcupine is the only edible animal that can be killed easily without firearms.

Jays Favored To Capture Governor's Cup

Allentown, Pa., Sept. 12 (AP)—The Schenectady Blue Jays, who were often out of the first division during the hectic final weeks of the Eastern League regular season, looked today like the leading prospects for the Governor's Cup.

After gaining a berth in the playoff finals Saturday decisively downing the first-place Reading Indians, the Jays moved onto Allentown last night and shut out the Redbirds 4-0.

Allentown, which finished second during the regular season, gained a playoff berth by defeating the Triplets 10-7 Saturday night at Binghamton. The score of Saturday's game at Schenectady was 5-0.

BOTH THE Jays and Redbirds took their semi-final series three games to one.

Southpaw Marv Williams spaced out nine hits to capture last night's game for Schenectady. Rogers Fister and Elio Scarpa of Allentown gave up one hit less between them, but the Jays bunched walks with their hits to score all four runs off Fister.

The Jays got away in the second when Frank Herrera caught one of Fister's fastballs and rode it over the left field fence for a homer.

Marlboro's Six-Man Gridders Have Only 4 Vets Returning

Graduation and other factors have heavily hit Marlboro Central School's football team. Only four experienced players are returning for further six-man action, Coach Angelo Macci said today.

The MCS sextet opens a six-game schedule on Friday, Sept. 23, at Greer school in Dutchess county.

Five seniors from the '54 squad are no longer on the scene. They are Charley Mandia, Joe Sarra, George Brooks, Gene Columbo and Charley Mataraza.

Carston Conn, another '54 performer, died of burns received in a storage plant accident this summer. Bob Taormina contracted pneumonia and is under doctor's orders forbidding play. Three other players transferred to different schools.

RETURNING ARE halfbacks Frank Santora and Angie Fabbiano, quarterback Dick Mandia and end Dick Collins.

Also out for the team are Lou Volpe, Mike Caserto, Ralph Henry and Larry DiOrio. Freshman candidates are Jim Columbo, Ken Stohr, Marsh Mannese, Mike Tamburri and Pete Henry.

That's a total of 13 candidates, which leaves Macci both short-handed and pessimistic.

The schedule:

Date	Opponent	Place
Sept. 23	Greer	Away
Sept. 30	Maybrook	Away
Oct. 6	Kerhonkson	Home
Oct. 14	Wallkill	Home

Suggs Holds Three Stroke Golf Lead

St. Louis, Sept. 12 (AP)—Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., faces another threat to her three-stroke lead today from Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., in the last round of the $5,000 St. Louis Women's Open golf tournament.

Miss Berg moved within one stroke yesterday with a two-under-par 34 on the first nine holes while the leader had a 38. But Miss Suggs, a steady sub-par shooter all three rounds, came back with a three-under 36 on the back nine to her rival's 38.

Patty turned in a remarkabble 68 opening day, then blew to an 80 before her 72, the day's best round, for a 220 total. Miss Suggs had 71-72-74—217.

Quarles told a CBS audience yesterday, however, the program "is definitely justified." A check by the inspector general, he said, "left us nothing serious to worry about."

Comeback Trail Jammed

DeMarco-Vejar Bout Heads Boxing Slate

Several Ex-Champs Also Scheduled

By MURRAY ROSE
Of The Associated Press

Boxing's comeback trail is jammed this week with ex-champions and former top contenders hoping to get back into title contention.

Three erstwhile champions, Tony DeMarco, Johnny Saxton and Willie Pep, and two heavyweights, Nino Valdes and Don Cockell who were the one-two contenders only a short while ago, are among the topflighters featured on the week's fine boxing program.

DeMarco, who lost his welterweight crown to Carmen Basilio on June 10, returns to action for the first time since that knockout defeat, on Wednesday. He meets ambitious Chico Vejar, winner of seven straight and unbeaten in his last 12, in the top bout of the schedule in the Boston Garden (9 p. m., EST, ABC-TV, radio).

The winner may get the next title crack as Basilio.

SAXTON, who lost his crown to DeMarco on April 1, opposes Joe Shaw of New York at Portland, Me., Thursday night. Pep, the onetime featherweight king, meets Jimmy Ithia of New York in a flood relief benefit show at Hartford, Conn., Tuesday.

Valdes, giant Cuban heavyweight who was the No. 1 contender until he lost to Archie Moore and Bob Satterfield, takes on England's Cockell in a 10-rounder in London's White City Stadium, Tuesday night.

Isaac Logart of Cuba and Al (Sugar) Wilson, of Englewood, N. J., a couple of good welterweights, mix it up tonight in the television 10-rounder (Dumont-TV, 9 p. m., EST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

THE FRIDAY night national radio-TV bout (NBC-TV, radio, 9 p. m., EST), matches two outstanding young lightweight contenders, Frankie Ryff of New York and Joey Lopes of Sacramento in a 10-rounder at the Detroit Olympic.

A Split second is the big difference!

A split second is the big difference in a play like this. In your engine it's even more important. Unless your engine fires on the right 1/100 of a second, power works against you, not for you.

TCP is the Big Difference between Highest Octane Gasolines— gives you split-second "GO"

With the horsepower of today's engines at an all-time high, it's no wonder they'll give you split-second "GO" at the touch of your toe.

But did you know that deposits, which build up in your engine during daily driving, soon cut down this fine response?

In combustion chambers, they glow red hot and fire the gasoline a split second before the piston reaches firing position . . . resulting in an incomplete power stroke.

On spark plugs, the deposits cause short circuits and your engine "misses"—wasting still more power! High octane alone can't stop this dual power loss. TCP can.*

TCP, the specially developed Shell gasoline additive, neutralizes deposits as they form. It stops both pre-firing and spark plug failure. That's how TCP keeps top octane delivering split-second response.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and top octane. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use! Fill up today at your Shell Dealer's.

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Secretary Donald A. Quarles says the air force plans neither to stiffen nor to ease its course of training men to survive as prisoners of war. Disclosure of simulated brainwashing and other tactics used at the school at Stead Air Force Base, Nev., last week brought some criticism that it was too rough. Quarles told a CBS audience yesterday, however, the program "is definitely justified." A check by the inspector general, he said, "left us nothing serious to worry about."

Comeback Trail Jammed

DeMarco-Vejar Bout Heads Boxing Slate

Several Ex-Champs Also Scheduled

By MURRAY ROSE
Of The Associated Press

Boxing's comeback trail is jammed this week with ex-champions and former top contenders hoping to get back into title contention.

Three erstwhile champions, Tony DeMarco, Johnny Saxton and Willie Pep, and two heavyweights, Nino Valdes and Don Cockell who were the one-two contenders only a short while ago, are among the topflighters featured on the week's fine boxing program.

DeMarco, who lost his welterweight crown to Carmen Basilio on June 10, returns to action for the first time since that knockout defeat, on Wednesday. He meets ambitious Chico Vejar, winner of seven straight and unbeaten in his last 12, in the top bout of the schedule in the Boston Garden (9 p. m., EST, ABC-TV, radio).

The winner may get the next title crack as Basilio.

Valdes, giant Cuban heavyweight who was the No. 1 contender until he lost to Archie Moore and Bob Satterfield, takes on England's Cockell in a 10-rounder in London's White City Stadium, Tuesday night.

Isaac Logart of Cuba and Al (Sugar) Wilson, of Englewood, N. J., a couple of good welterweights, mix it up tonight in the television 10-rounder (Dumont-TV, 9 p. m., EST) at New York's St. Nicholas Arena.

THE FRIDAY night national radio-TV bout (NBC-TV, radio, 9 p. m., EST), matches two outstanding young lightweight contenders, Frankie Ryff of New York and Joey Lopes of Sacramento in a 10-rounder at the Detroit Olympic.

A split second is the big difference in a play like this. In your engine it's even more important. Unless your engine fires on the right 1/100 of a second, power works against you, not for you.

TCP is the Big Difference between Highest Octane Gasolines—gives you split-second "GO"

With the horsepower of today's engines at an all-time high, it's no wonder they'll give you split-second "GO" at the touch of your toe.

But did you know that deposits, which build up in your engine during daily driving, soon cut down this fine response?

In combustion chambers, they glow red hot and fire the gasoline a split second before the piston reaches firing position . . . resulting in an incomplete power stroke.

On spark plugs, the deposits cause short circuits and your engine "misses"—wasting still more power! High octane alone can't stop this dual power loss. TCP can.*

TCP, the specially developed Shell gasoline additive, neutralizes deposits as they form. It stops both pre-firing and spark plug failure. That's how TCP keeps top octane delivering split-second response.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and top octane. It's the most powerful gasoline your car can use! Fill up today at your Shell Dealer's.

U.S. Aim Is to Keep World Prosperous

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told a meeting of free world economic leaders in Istanbul, Turkey, today that prosperity runs high this side of the Iron Curtain and United States policy is aimed at keeping it that way.

Humphrey's remarks, released here by the Treasury, were prepared for the opening session of the 10th annual meeting of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund.

THE ANNUAL reports of the 58-nation bank and fund, also made public here, noted record breaking economic activity in most parts of the non-Communist world, but the fund's optimism was tempered by inflationary threats it found in some places.

Humphrey said:

"Business activity is at record levels throughout most of the world. World trade is at a high and healthier volume. Prices are more stable. . . There has been a sharp reduction in governmentally imposed barriers to financial and trade transactions.

"Genuine progress has thus been made during these 10 years (since the founding of the bank and fund in 1946) toward the fund's objectives of strengthening economies, removing restrictions, and promoting a more realistic and freer system of healthy exchange and trade.

"In the United States," Humphrey continued, "we have enacted a three year extension of the reciprocal trade agreements program, permitting a gradual and realistic approach to increasing mutually beneficial trade. . . Most important of all, we have strengthened and increased the high level of economic activity in the United States, and thus provided an increased demand for the world's goods. . .

"THE OVER-ALL prospect is that the dollars available to foreign countries should provide a basis for a continued growth in mutually beneficial international trade. . . The value of our total imports of goods in 1954 was more than 60 per cent above the 1947-49 level, and in 1955 our imports are still higher. . ."

The world bank and the fund were created after the war to help restore economic activity. The bank's first mission was lending to put roads, railroads, ports, communications systems, and vital industries torn by war back to work. Since then, it has moved into counseling and lending for general economic development.

The fund lends to its members in need of foreign exchange, helps set currency values, and advises on economic problems, with the goal of wiping out trade and exchange restrictions and restoring international convertibility of all major currencies.

IN ITS 10TH anniversary report the bank said that "given an adequate measure of economic and political stability, the prospect is for further expansion in economic activity and improvements in living standards."

The fund, although noting the rise of inflation in some Latin American nations, and trade baiance difficulties in Great Britain and most nonindustrial nations, said:

"Further considerable progress has been made in the direction of freer and less discriminatory trade . . . increases in imports which liberalization measures have permitted have, in general, not created balance of payment difficulties. . . .

"There is a high degree of effective convertibility (freedom of exchange) of sterling and the Deutsche mark into dollars . . . the record can be regarded as fairly satisfactory.

"IT APPEARS there will be a further lowering of (U. S.) tariffs and other barriers to trade . . . prospects for continued improvement (in trade) are, in general, good."

"The fund noted exceptional production increases in Great Britain, France, Western Germany, Austria, The Netherlands, Italy and Norway in 1954. It said Japan and Mexico had outstanding achievements to report in checking inflation and restoring their currencies and trade to sound levels.

The fund cited Ceylon as an example of a small nation getting a big development program underway while avoiding inflation. It cited Bolivia, Brazil and Chile as "serious" inflationary spots.

THE WORLD BANK said its loan commitments were at a record level of 410 million dollars in the fiscal year which ended June 30.

Since it started, the bank has made loan commitments in 37 countries totaling $2,300,000,000. The bank gave this summary of its lending in the past fiscal year:

It made loans to improve transportation in Mexico, East Africa, Australia and Belgium.

Loans to increase the free world's supply of electricity boosted output by 100 million kilowatts. Electric power loans went to Ceylon, India, Pakistan, Colombia, Italy, Finland and Austria.

Agricultural loans went to Italy, Finland, Peru, Australia, and India's industrial credit and investment corp.

IN THE PAST YEAR, the bank said, its money and advice helped complete one of the power stations at Rio de Janeiro; pushed along development of agriculture and industry in Italy's lagging south; improved rail services in Pakistan; and completed 13 projects in Turkey.

In his address, Secretary Humphrey said that "perhaps the most interesting development of the past year was progress toward establishment, within the world bank, of the proposed International Finance Corp.

This will be a 100 million dollar development corporation, run by the World Bank with capital subscribed by bank member nations, to establish industries in underdeveloped nations, in partnership with private investors. It will not, like the World Bank, require governmental guarantee of its loans. When an industry it sets up attracts private investors, part of the corporation's holdings can be sold, or the industry can be transferred entirely to private hands. The corporation will use the capital thus released for further projects.

There will be a meeting of the Community Organization of the Fifth Ward this evening at Cordts engine house. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 and the principal business will be arranging for the purchase of the bronze plaque for the soldier's monument in the school yard at No. 4 School. Jackie Gleason Will Star In Movie; Authors Story

By CHARLES MERCER

New York, Sept. 12 (AP) — Jackie Gleason, a man who plays many parts, is taking on two added roles. He is going to star in a motion picture. He has written a short story about "The $64,000 Question" which will be televised—probably with Gleason himself staring in it—this coming season.

The highest paid entertainer in television returns to CBS-TV and his regular weekly show Oct. 1. He's been working hard on it all summer, except for one month's vacation. Was he in Bermuda?

"I was in Bermuda," he says. "I heard I was a lot of other places too. But I was right there in Bermuda lying around in the sun. It was swell."

NOW HE HAS resumed filming the "Honeymooners" for his regular Saturday night show. He's turning them out at the rate of two a week before live audiences in the Adelphi Theatre here. He's using Du Mont's new "electronicam" TV-film system, a method which he says delights him because it combines films of the highest quality with amazing speed of production.

"It's sensational," Gleason says. "Our results already are so good that I'm sure 'electronicam' will revolutionize our whole approach to simultaneous telecasting and motion picture film. If you have an honest performance with honest laughs, 'electronicam' is the only way to record it. We're really getting what we went after: 'live-on-film.'"

BY THE END of next January he'll have 39 of "The Honeymooners" series "in the can," Gleason says, adding: "That leaves me free till next August to do some other things I want to."

What sort of things?

"Well, about the first of March I'm starting to make a motion picture. Elia Kazan is directing it and Budd Schulberg is writing it. It's based on a short story of Schulberg's called 'The Arkansas Traveler.' That's right, it's about a prominent television personality—but it has other overtones."

What else is cooking?

GLEASON LOOKED about his resplendant and newly refurbished penthouse office. He sat behind his desk which is shaped like an enormous lily pad and rises from ankle-deep carpeting.

"I wrote a short story," he said.

No kidding?

"That's right. I was looking at 'The $64,000 Question' (CBS-TV) and I got this idea about a guy in Brooklyn who was of little importance to his family—until he got on 'The $64,000 Question.' So I wrote it. It's called 'To Be or Not To Be' . . . no, it hasn't been published . . . no pal, I'm not going to tell you how it ends. But Frank Gilroy is adapting it for television and 'Studio 1' (CBS-TV) is going to take it, I understand."

BESIDES FINDING time for this show, Gleason will appear in two CBS spectaculars this season. And probably, before this week is ended, something else will be cooking at Jackie Gleason Enterprises Inc.

Around there the motto always is: "And a-way we go!"

An interesting premier tonight is "Medical Horizons" on ABC-TV (9:30 p. m., EDT). This weekly program, which has the cooperation of the American Medical Assn., is dedicated to the idea that it's of public interest and in the public interest to present new developments in medicine.

In the first program physicians of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., will show how the newly developed heart-lung "by-pass" machine keeps the human heart free of blood and allows a surgeon a clear and dry area on which to operate. Unlike "Medic" (NBC-TV), "Medical Horizons" has no story line. It figures there's enough drama in the facts of medicine itself.

Time's Not Refuse

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—L. M. Greenwood, a plumber, filed a $2.95 claim against the city. That, he charged, is what it cost his business in loss of time when one of his trucks was held up for 30 minutes by a city refuse truck. "The (city) truck," he complained, "was parked squarely in the center of the street while the driver read comic books."

Jackie Gleason Will Star In Movie; Authors Story

By CHARLES MERCER

New York, Sept. 12 (AP) — Jackie Gleason, a man who plays many parts, is taking on two added roles. He is going to star in a motion picture. He has written a short story about "The $64,000 Question" which will be televised—probably with Gleason himself staring in it—this coming season.

The highest paid entertainer in television returns to CBS-TV and his regular weekly show Oct. 1. He's been working hard on it all summer, except for one month's vacation. Was he in Bermuda?

"I was in Bermuda," he says. "I heard I was a lot of other places too. But I was right there in Bermuda lying around in the sun. It was swell."

NOW HE HAS resumed filming the "Honeymooners" for his regular Saturday night show. He's turning them out at the rate of two a week before live audiences in the Adelphi Theatre here. He's using Du Mont's new "electronicam" TV-film system, a method which he says delights him because it combines films of the highest quality with amazing speed of production.

"It's sensational," Gleason says. "Our results already are so good that I'm sure 'electronicam' will revolutionize our whole approach to simultaneous telecasting and motion picture film. If you have an honest performance with honest laughs, 'electronicam' is the only way to record it. We're really getting what we went after: 'live-on-film.'"

BY THE END of next January he'll have 39 of "The Honeymooners" series "in the can," Gleason says, adding: "That leaves me free till next August to do some other things I want to."

What sort of things?

"Well, about the first of March I'm starting to make a motion picture. Elia Kazan is directing it and Budd Schulberg is writing it. It's based on a short story of Schulberg's called 'The Arkansas Traveler.' That's right, it's about a prominent television personality—but it has other overtones."

What else is cooking?

GLEASON LOOKED about his resplendant and newly refurbished penthouse office. He sat behind his desk which is shaped like an enormous lily pad and rises from ankle-deep carpeting.

"I wrote a short story," he said.

No kidding?

"That's right. I was looking at 'The $64,000 Question' (CBS-TV) and I got this idea about a guy in Brooklyn who was of little importance to his family—until he got on 'The $64,000 Question.' So I wrote it. It's called 'To Be or Not To Be' . . . no, it hasn't been published . . . no pal, I'm not going to tell you how it ends. But Frank Gilroy is adapting it for television and 'Studio 1' (CBS-TV) is going to take it, I understand."

BESIDES FINDING time for this show, Gleason will appear in two CBS spectaculars this season. And probably, before this week is ended, something else will be cooking at Jackie Gleason Enterprises Inc.

Around there the motto always is: "And a-way we go!"

An interesting premier tonight is "Medical Horizons" on ABC-TV (9:30 p. m., EDT). This weekly program, which has the cooperation of the American Medical Assn., is dedicated to the idea that it's of public interest and in the public interest to present new developments in medicine.

In the first program physicians of the Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minn., will show how the newly developed heart-lung "by-pass" machine keeps the human heart free of blood and allows a surgeon a clear and dry area on which to operate. Unlike "Medic" (NBC-TV), "Medical Horizons" has no story line. It figures there's enough drama in the facts of medicine itself.

Time's Not Refuse

Hartford, Conn. (AP)—L. M. Greenwood, a plumber, filed a $2.95 claim against the city. That, he charged, is what it cost his business in loss of time when one of his trucks was held up for 30 minutes by a city refuse truck. "The (city) truck," he complained, "was parked squarely in the center of the street while the driver read comic books."

Rosendale

Firehouse Building Contracts Awarded

Rosenndale, Sept. 12 — Contracts for bids recently submitted for the new Rosendale village firehouse were awarded by the Village Board September 6 as follows: Jonansen and Larsen of Stone Ridge, for masonry, carpentry and painting, $20,500. The bid of $1,375 for plumbing and $3,010 by Banks Bros. for heating. The resolution on the lighting contract of Joseph E. O'Connor was held for action until next meeting and has been estimated at a cost of approximately $1,740.

Work has already started on the construction of the firehall, the contractors announced, and completion of the building is expected in about two months. Difficulty in obtaining required steel could hold up the construction work.

Although work on the project will continue despite the fact the old Gorsline residence, a three-story, 10-room house, has not yet been sold. The village hopes to dispose of the building shortly, so that the area on which it stands may be made ready for blacktopping. This will allow the fire trucks to park on the property off the sidewalk or road. The firehouse will be set back from the street.

Attending the board meeting was a group of Campbell street residents who requested that the village blacktop that street. The board explained that portions of the road are privately owned, and thus village law forbids the village from maintaining the road under these conditions. However, the board did offer to put shale on the road to make it passable.

Mayor John Mooney pointed out to the delegation that the village would accept Campbell street for maintenance if they received a deed for a surveyed right of way to the full road.

Court Calendars Set

The civil calendar was called by County Judge William A. Kelly this morning, cases marked ready and a day calendar set up. Several cases on the ready calendar were marked for "pre-trial" conferences. Criminal matters were moved over to the afternoon session.

Dockers Refuse

been tentatively set fon Sept. 27.

Cancellations of the agreement also brought a "double-cross" charge from Patrick J. Connolly, executive vice president of the ILA.

"We will not recommend that they (union members) go back to work . . . we have nothing to offer them now."

THE UNION OFFICIAL continued: "There may be a lot of confusion in the port later today. Some men may work, some will not . . . if the men want to work, it's up to them."

The union has long chafed under regulations of the two-year-old waterfront commission, an agency set up by the states of New York and New Jersey to police dock labor.

The ILA, which was thrown out of the AFL for allegedly failing to clean out racketeer elements, strongly objected to the commission rules denying work permits to men with long criminal records. It also claimed the commission was too strict, abused its subpoena power and interfered with collective bargaining.

THE COMMISSION has denied any abuse of power and said the union's bitter resistance to its regulations was "just plain lawlessness." It has urged the union to file specific grievances and said it would give them a fair hearing.

Ostrander's disavowal of any agreement with the union backed up the waterfront commission. He said the committee will not be a forum for any organization that defies "the administrative authority of a legally constituted body, nor will it provide an excuse for cessation of an illegal act."

Referring to the commission, Ostrander added, "it's responsibility is great; its duties are arduous; and it deserves the support of all responsible, law-abiding citizens."

Speeding Charge

Arthur D. Herzog, 24, of Route 1, Box 336, East Kingston, was arrested on Flatbush avenue Sunday by Officers John Crespino and Gilbert Gray on a charge of speeding. He forfeited $20 bail through failure to appear before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

High Falls

Record Crowds View Annual Flower Show

High Falls, Sept. 12—A record crowd attended the first Annual Flower Show of the High Falls Reformed Church which was held Saturday. Exhibitors came from as far away as the Bronx, North Bergen, N. J., Beacon, Peekskill, New Paltz and Hurley. Lake Mohonk donated a large display of potted plants and cut flowers which were later sold and the money donated to the church. Outstanding among the exhibits was the large number of dahlias, ranging from the large bloom, twleve inches across, to the dainty little pom pons. The displays in artistic arrangement class were also very interesting and unique. Winners of prizes were as follows: Dahlias open class, first, Mrs. Adams of Beacon; second, Alfred Warren of Peekskill; and third, Albert Parrella of the Bronx. In the amateur class of dahlias: first, Donald VanDemark of High Falls; second, Mrs. George Brown of Hurley; and third, Mrs. Earl Stokes of New Paltz. A cup for the largest bloom in class one went to Alfred Warren and in the amateur class to Donald VanDemark.

Winners in the gladioli class were: First, Mrs. Lula Rapson of High Falls; second, Mrs. Robert Service of Stone Ridge; third, Miss Edythe Newkirk of Stone Ridge. The cup for the largest gladioli went to Donald VanDenmark. Winners in the horticulture class were: First, Mrs. George Brown of Hurley; second, Mrs. Earl Stokes of New Paltz; and third, Mrs. Carrall of Hurley. Many of the prizes and cups were donations of well-known seed and bulb companies. A few of them came directly from Holland.

Much of the credit for the show goes to Mrs. Anna Niles, long a flower lover and a helper at other flower shows, and to Donald VanDemark, one of the youngest dahlias growers exhibiting in last year's New York City Flower Show.

A cafeteria supper was served at 5 and colored slides of wild flowers were shown at 7 by Donald Adelberg of North Bergen.

Firehouse Building Contracts Awarded

Rosenndale, Sept. 12 — Contracts for bids recently submitted for the new Rosendale village firehouse were awarded by the Village Board September 6 as follows: Jonansen and Larsen of Stone Ridge, for masonry, carpentry and painting, $20,500. The bid of $1,375 for plumbing and $3,010 by Banks Bros. for heating. The resolution on the lighting contract of Joseph E. O'Connor was held for action until next meeting and has been estimated at a cost of approximately $1,740.

Work has already started on the construction of the firehall, the contractors announced, and completion of the building is expected in about two months. Difficulty in obtaining required steel could hold up the construction work.

Although work on the project will continue despite the fact the old Gorsline residence, a three-story, 10-room house, has not yet been sold. The village hopes to dispose of the building shortly, so that the area on which it stands may be made ready for blacktopping. This will allow the fire trucks to park on the property off the sidewalk or road. The firehouse will be set back from the street.

Attending the board meeting was a group of Campbell street residents who requested that the village blacktop that street. The board explained that portions of the road are privately owned, and thus village law forbids the village from maintaining the road under these conditions. However, the board did offer to put shale on the road to make it passable.

Mayor John Mooney pointed out to the delegation that the village would accept Campbell street for maintenance if they received a deed for a surveyed right of way to the full road.

Court Calendars Set

The civil calendar was called by County Judge William A. Kelly this morning, cases marked ready and a day calendar set up. Several cases on the ready calendar were marked for "pre-trial" conferences. Criminal matters were moved over to the afternoon session.

Dockers Refuse

been tentatively set fon Sept. 27.

Cancellations of the agreement also, brought a "double-cross" charge from Patrick J. Connolly, executive vice president of the ILA.

"We will not recommend that they (union members) go back to work . . . we have nothing to offer them now."

THE UNION OFFICIAL continued: "There may be a lot of confusion in the port later today. Some men may work, some will not . . . if the men want to work, it's up to them."

The union has long chafed under regulations of the two-year-old waterfront commission, an agency set up by the states of New York and New Jersey to police dock labor.

The ILA, which was thrown out of the AFL for allegedly failing to clean out racketeer elements, strongly objected to the commission rules denying work permits to men with long criminal records. It also claimed the commission was too strict, abused its subpoena power and interfered with collective bargaining.

THE COMMISSION has denied any abuse of power and said the union's bitter resistance to its regulations was "just plain lawlessness." It has urged the union to file specific grievances and said it would give them a fair hearing.

Ostrander's disavowal of any agreement with the union backed up the waterfront commission. He said the committee will not be a forum for any organization that defies "the administrative authority of a legally constituted body, nor will it provide an excuse for cessation of an illegal act."

Referring to the commission, Ostrander added, "it's responsibility is great; its duties are arduous; and it deserves the support of all responsible, law-abiding citizens."

Speeding Charge

Arthur D. Herzog, 24, of Route 1, Box 336, East Kingston, was arrested on Flatbush avenue Sunday by Officers John Crespino and Gilbert Gray on a charge of speeding. He forfeited $20 bail through failure to appear before City Judge Raymond J. Mino today.

Record Crowds View Annual Flower Show

High Falls, Sept. 12—A record crowd attended the first Annual Flower Show of the High Falls Reformed Church which was held Saturday. Exhibitors came from as far away as the Bronx, North Bergen, N. J., Beacon, Peekskill, New Paltz and Hurley. Lake Mohonk donated a large display of potted plants and cut flowers which were later sold and the money donated to the church. Outstanding among the exhibits was the large number of dahlias, ranging from the large bloom, twleve inches across, to the dainty little pom pons. The displays in artistic arrangement class were also very interesting and unique. Winners of prizes were as follows: Dahlias open class, first, Mrs. Adams of Beacon; second, Alfred Warren of Peekskill; and third, Albert Parrella of the Bronx. In the amateur class of dahlias: first, Donald VanDemark of High Falls; second, Mrs. George Brown of Hurley; and third, Mrs. Earl Stokes of New Paltz. A cup for the largest bloom in class one went to Alfred Warren and in the amateur class to Donald VanDemark.

Winners in the gladioli class were: First, Mrs. Lula Rapson of High Falls; second, Mrs. Robert Service of Stone Ridge; third, Miss Edythe Newkirk of Stone Ridge. The cup for the largest gladioli went to Donald VanDenmark. Winners in the horticulture class were: First, Mrs. George Brown of Hurley; second, Mrs. Earl Stokes of New Paltz; and third, Mrs. Carrall of Hurley. Many of the prizes and cups were donations of well-known seed and bulb companies. A few of them came directly from Holland.

Much of the credit for the show goes to Mrs. Anna Niles, long a flower lover and a helper at other flower shows, and to Donald VanDemark, one of the youngest dahlias growers exhibiting in last year's New York City Flower Show.

A cafeteria supper was served at 5 and colored slides of wild flowers were shown at 7 by Donald Adelberg of North Bergen.

Three Are Injured In Auto Mishaps Over Weekend

Three persons were injured in two city traffic mishaps over the weekend.

Marie C. Lyke, of Hurley suffered shock and Margaret Morrison, 56, of Box 696, Hudson, suffered a laceration of the chin in a two-car collision at Albany and Foxhall avenues at 6:27 p. m., Sunday, and Bertha Rouse, 4, of 24 Ann street was injured when she came in contact with a car on Ann street Saturday.

Officers Thomas McGrane and Harold DeGraff reported Sunday night that the sedan of Raymond Lyke of Hurley was headed north on Albany avenue, turning left into Roosevelt avenue, and the car of Joseph Morrison, of Box 696 Hudson, was headed north on Albany avenue when they collided.

Margaret Morrison was treated at the scene by a doctor and then taken by Schultz ambulance to the Benedictine Hospital where her condition was reported as "fair" today.

A police report Saturday said Morris Kaplan, of 70 Hasbrouck avenue, reported that at about 2:30 p. m., an Ann street child came in contact with the car he was driving near 20 Ann street as she ran from behind two parked cars. She was taken to Kingston Hospital, where it was indicated she suffered a pelvic injury. Her condition was reported as "apparently fairly good" today.

Backing from Embassy

Seoul, Sept. 12 (AP)—American Embassy officials here are supporting U. S. businessmen in their fight with the South Korean government over taxes, qualified sources said today. The businessmen say South Korea is trying to assess and collect taxes retroactively after telling them the taxes did not apply to them. The sources, who would not be quoted by name, said embassy officials have protected the taxation attempt in a series of talks with South Korean officials and have also protested South Korean press statements that U. S. businessmen have refused to pay all taxes or comply with regulations.

Uranium Maps Ready

Washington, Sept. 12 (AP)—For a nominal price, any would-be uranium prospector now can buy a government map showing areas known to be richest in the atomic-age ore. Secretary of the Interior McKay yesterday announced availability to the public of a new map showing known uranium deposits. The map, plotting the locations of the most important deposits, was prepared by the Geological Survey for the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC). It shows the principal uranium deposits to be located in Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and South Dakota. Such deposits are found in sandstone and limestone formations, the survey said.

S. businessmen have refused to pay all taxes or comply with regulations.
